

FMPC GUIDING PRINCIPLES & PROCESS

What is the FAMILY MEDICINE PHILANTHROPIC CONSORTIUM (FMPC)?

The Family Medicine Philanthropic Consortium (FMPC) is a collaborative program of the American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP) Foundation and the Constituent Chapters and Chapter Foundations of the AAFP. Created in 2006, the FMPC is convened by the AAFP Foundation and consists of one Voting Representative for each AAFP Constituent Chapter or Chapter Foundation as appointed or elected by the Chapter/Chapter Foundation. The FMPC Voting Representatives elect an 11-member FMPC Steering Committee which conducts the ongoing business of the FMPC and serves to bring recommendations to the full FMPC Voting Representative body for consideration.

What is the FMPC GRANT AWARDS PROGRAM and what are its GOALS?

In May 2006, the FMPC created a competitive grant program to distribute a portion of Dues Check-Off revenue among the constituent Chapters and Chapter Foundations to support chapter-level philanthropic programs that align with our mutual missions of improving the health of all people. The FMPC Steering Committee adopted following goals:

- To administer a fair and equitable grants process that will involve as many Chapters and Chapter Foundations as possible
- To support excellent programs
- To support programs that can be replicated among the constituents
- To support programs that have successful, measurable outcomes
- To support programs that will position the FMPC to attract national funding

What are the GUIDING PRINCIPLES for AWARDING FMPC GRANTS?

In 2006, the FMPC Steering Committee, whose members also serve as Reviewers, established a set of guiding principles to focus the deliberation of the proposals and determination of grant awards. These guiding principles, which encompass the overall philosophy of the FMPC Grant Awards program, are working principles that have and will continue to evolve with the FMPC Grant Awards Program.

1. Support Family Medicine projects that fall within identified FMPC Priority Areas identified as:
  - a. Member Outreach A program/project that focuses on education, research, and/or humanitarian opportunities that target AAFP Family Physician members.
  - b. Public Health A program/project that focuses on the health of families and communities by promoting healthy lifestyles; conducting research and/or providing education for disease and injury prevention; and/or projects that are humanitarian or service in nature that improve health of individuals or communities.
  - c. Student and Resident (building the Family Medicine pathway) A program/project that focuses on education, research, and/or humanitarian opportunities for students (high school, undergraduate, or medical students) and/or Family Medicine residents.
2. Encourage new and innovative projects that impact FMPC Priority Areas. A preference will be given to innovative projects.
3. Provide support for existing projects relevant to and potentially adaptable by other Chapters and Chapter Foundations. There is no limit on the number of times that a grant project can receive funding from the FMPC. However, to justify continued funding the program must continue to develop, expand, or be enhanced in some way.

4. Stipulate a cap on grant awards to ensure that support is available for the largest number of high quality grants.

- Applications received after the open application deadline will not be accepted.
- Grant applications that fail to comply with all eligibility and submission requirements will not be considered for funding.

IV. Review of Grants

- Eligible applications are sent to a Review Committee, made up of Steering Committee members, for scoring and comments by four Reviewers.
- Final scores are tallied by the Program Managers by taking the average of the four Reviewers' scores.
- Slate of FMPC Grant Award Recipients will be recommended for approval by Steering Committee to the Board of Trustees in May.

V. Amount of Award

- Since 2006, FMPC Grant Awards have generally ranged between $2,500 and $7,000. The maximum award has been capped at $7,000 for the highest scoring grants to ensure that funding is distributed widely among the applicants.

VI. Notice of Award and Project Period

- Following final approval of the Slate of FMPC Grant Awards all applicants receive a Notice of Award in late May, which a letter is stating whether the application was recommended for full funding, partial funding, or not recommended for funding. The Notice of Award also includes Reviewers' comments and the final score.
- Applicants receiving a recommendation for full or partial funding will receive an FMPC Grant Award Agreement. For partially funded projects, modifications to the proposal and budget must be submitted prior to sending the Grant Award Agreement to the recipient.
- Project period is from July 1 through June 30.

- Payment-in-full will be made once the Agreement has been fully executed by all parties.
