INTRODUCTION

This seventeenth revised and updated edition of the Center for the History of Family Medicine Collections Catalog offers our visitors and researchers a comprehensive look at the collections of the Center for the History of Family Medicine. The Center for the History of Family Medicine serves as the primary repository of information and resources on the history and evolution of general practice, family practice, the specialty of family medicine, and the family medicine organizations. Its mission is to serve as the principal resource center for the collection, conservation, study, exhibition, and dissemination of materials relating to the evolving history of the specialty of family medicine in the United States.

The Center endeavors to play a major role in informing through history the transformation of the future of family medicine as a discipline. It fills three important roles in one: as a historical research library, holding published works on family medicine, as well as books by or about family physicians; as an archives, serving as the official repository for both the records of the major family medicine organizations and leaders within the specialty; and as a museum, featuring artifacts and exhibits from the earliest days of general practice up to the present day's specialty of family medicine. The Center also features a professionally staffed, climate-controlled facility utilizing archival-quality materials for preserving records and artifacts of enduring historical value, and offers a variety of programs and services, such as an oral history project to help capture and preserve the ongoing history of family medicine; research fellowship and internship programs; and both research and reference services.

The Center for the History of Family Medicine is presently the only institution dedicated to preserving and sharing the history of family medicine in the United States. As a unique institution within the world of family medicine, the CHFM chronicles family medicine's distinguished past and looks forward to its promising future. We believe that the Center is unique – one of the finest historical centers of its kind among medical specialty organizations, and the premier resource center for the study of the history of family medicine in the United States. It is our goal to serve as a professional historical resource center of the highest quality, and it is in this spirit that this Collections of the Center for the History of Family Medicine Catalog has been prepared.

HOW TO USE THIS GUIDE

This Center for the History of Family Medicine Collections Catalog is arranged in four major sections:

1). ARCHIVES COLLECTION

The Archives Collection consists of the official historical records of the major family medicine organizations, as well as the personal and professional papers of individuals involved in the development and evolution of family medicine. Included in this collection are also photographs, slides, audio and videotapes, CDs, DVDs, flash (thumb) and hard drives, and other audiovisual materials.

The Archives Collection is arranged in five major categories as follows:

a). Records of Organizations—These records include the official historical records and publications of major family medicine organizations and include the records of the American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP); the American Academy of Family Physicians Foundation (AAFP Foundation); the American Board of Family Medicine (ABFM); the American College of Osteopathic Family Physicians (ACOF); the Association of Departments of Family Medicine (ADFM); the Association of Family Medicine Residency Directors (AFMRD); the North American Primary Care Research Group (NAPCRG); and the Society of Teachers of Family Medicine (STFM). These records are arranged in acid-free (blue-grey) archival boxes within the Center and are arranged according to the Center's uniform subject headings list (see Appendix 1 for details).

b). Records of Individuals—These include the personal and professional papers of general practitioners, family physicians, educators and others involved in the development and evolution of the specialty of family medicine. This collection is arranged in acid-free (tan) archival boxes within the Center and is arranged according to the Center's uniform subject headings list (see Appendix 1 for details).

c.) Audiovisual Materials—Audiovisual materials include CDs, DVDs, computer diskettes, digital files, flash (thumb) and hard drives, films, slides, audiocassettes, videotapes (1/2" VHS, 3/4" Beta-Max and other) and microfilm relating to the history and evolution of the specialty of family medicine. All audiovisual materials are arranged according to the uniform subject headings list (see Appendix 1). The Audiovisual Collections also include taped oral histories, including the "Voices from Family Medicine" Oral History Series, and extensive audio and videotape collections.

d). Oversized Materials—Oversized materials are composed of large or oversized blueprints, photographs, posters, and other materials that because of their size or bulk, are stored separately in an oversized flat file within the Center. They are arranged in two separate divisions: as Non-Photograph materials (posters, prints, blueprints, etc.) and as Photographs.

e). Photographs—The Photograph Collection contains approximately 26,000 photographs [as of July 1, 2023] on a variety of subjects relating to the history of family medicine. Copies of photographic prints may be requested from most of the photos in our collection at a cost. (For more details on prices for reproductions and services, please see Appendix 3.) The Photograph Collection is also subdivided into two major categories: regular-size photographs, negatives and extra prints, which are located in acid-free (tan) archival boxes in the Center; and Oversized original photographs, which are located within the oversized flat file in the Center. Both regular-size and oversized photographs are indexed and arranged under the Center's uniform subject headings. (Note: at present, all individual photographs have not yet been inventoried, but the subjects under which they are contained have been listed for purposes of this Catalog. For more details, see the Photographic Collections section later in this Guide.)

2). LIBRARY COLLECTION

The Library Collection contains over 1,300 volumes [as of July 1, 2023] on the following subjects:

- a.) Books by or about family medicine or family physicians;
- b.) General works on the history of American medicine; and
- c.) General reference works.

Books within the Library Collection are organized and subdivided into four categories: books in the Main Collection; Rare Collection (classified as such due to their age, value or if signed by the author or presenter); the Reference Collection; and the Adam G.N. Moore, MD Collection in the History of Family Medicine.

The Library Collection also includes periodicals as well as more than 2,000 [as of July 1, 2023] individual reference (clip) files containing extracted and photocopied materials on a variety of subjects related to family medicine. These files are classified and arranged under the same uniform subject headings as are used for the Archives Collection (see Appendix 1 for more details on the uniform subject headings).

3). MUSEUM (ARTIFACT) COLLECTION

The Center's Museum (Artifact) Collection consists of artifacts or other three-dimensional objects, textiles, and framed or other exhibit materials that are of value in interpreting the history of family medicine in the United States or that are of value for use in permanent or temporary exhibits on the history of family medicine in the United States.

The collection is arranged in three major categories as follows:

- a). Artifacts in Storage—Included in this collection are souvenirs and ephemera from the major family medicine organizations, badges, textiles, and other items which are currently in storage (i.e., those items which are not presently on exhibit or which have not been packaged as part of a traveling exhibit);
- b). Plaques & Framed Items—These include framed pictures, plaques, posters (which include framed posters and large posters stored in tubes) which are currently not being used in exhibits or are not on display; and
- c). Traveling Exhibits—Traveling exhibits have been developed from the Center's collections. These small, table-top sized exhibits are specially prepared to be loaned to the various family medicine organizations, schools, civic organizations or other archives, libraries and museums for research or display purposes on a temporary basis. They are boxed and stored in the Center for use when needed.

All Artifacts in Storage and Plaques & Framed Items are arranged according to the Center's uniform subject headings list (see Appendix 1 for details). Traveling Exhibits are contained in acid-free (white) boxes and are arranged in the Center alphabetically by exhibition title.

4). APPENDICES

The three appendices are designed to provide additional information which may be of interest to the researcher. They are:

- a). Appendix 1: CHFM Uniform Subject Headings List—contains major headings under which the collection is organized;
- b). Appendix 2: CHFM Research Policies—provides an overview of rules and guidelines for researchers using the Center's collections; and
- c). Appendix 3: CHFM Price List for Reproductions and Services—details all prices for obtaining reproductions from the Center's collections, or for research services, postage, etc.

Amundson, Loren H., MD (1931-2018)

1 slim document case – See also: Library Collection and Photograph Collection

Loren H. Amundson, MD, was born in 1931 in Sioux Falls, South Dakota. He graduated from the two-year medical school at the University of South Dakota-Vermilion in 1954, then transferred to the University of Wisconsin School of Medicine in Madison, where he earned his medical degree in 1956. He completed a general rotating internship at the Charles T. Miller Hospital in St. Paul, Minnesota, 1956-1957. From 1957-1959, he served in the U.S. Army as a General Medical Officer at Fort Hood, Texas, after which he entered private family practice in Webster, South Dakota. In 1964, he moved to Sioux Falls where he maintained a practice until 1996. Dr. Amundson's service to family medicine is extensive. He was a charter diplomate of the ABFP in 1970, and was the founding chair of the Department of Family Medicine at the University of South Dakota School of Medicine in 1974. Dr. Amundson also served as ABFP director from 1983-1988, including one year as vice president. Honors he received include being named South Dakota's Family Doctor of the Year in 1989, receiving the AAFP Thomas W. Johnson Award in 1990, and the AAFP Award of Merit in 1994. As a member of the South Dakota AFP (SDAFP), he served as executive director, secretary-treasurer and founding editor of SDAFP News from 1971-1992. He also authored SDAFP's history booklet in 1991 and updated it in 2001. Amundson was a founding member of the South Dakota Foundation of Family Medicine in 1986, and served as secretary-treasurer and chairman of the board. He was also a founding member of the AAFP Home Study Self-Assessment Program and served as AAFP Video CME Editor. Dr. Amundson died from influenza complications on March 27, 2018.

Dr. Amundson's collection consists of historical summaries of the South Dakota Academy of Family Physicians, the University of South Dakota School of Medicine, and the South Dakota Hall of Fame. All of these publications contain writings by or about Dr. Amundson. There are also materials relating to various honors given to Dr. Amundson, including the naming of the Loren H. Amundson Foyer at the USD School of Medicine.

Baker, A. Sherwood, MD (1916-2009)

1960, 1967-1976, 1982, 1991-1995, 2003, 2008

1 slim document case – See also: Museum (Artifact) Collection and Photograph Collection (both Individual & STFM)

A. Sherwood Baker, MD was born in 1916 in Mount Morris, Illinois. He earned an AB degree in 1939 from Cornell College in Mount Vernon, Iowa, and his MD in 1942 from the University of Illinois School of Medicine. He did graduate work in physiology and completed a twelve-month rotating internship at Cook County Hospital in Chicago in 1943. Following that, Dr. Baker entered military service in the Air Force and served as a Ward Officer in hospitals in Jefferson Barracks, Missouri, and Scott Field, Illinois. From 1946-1963 he was in private general practice in Mount Morris, and in 1963, accepted an appointment at the University of Missouri in Columbia, in the Department of Family Practice and Community Health. While there, Dr. Baker helped to establish the medical preceptorship program, and from 1970-1974, he was Director of the Family Practice Residency at MU and also served as Chair of the Department of Community Health and Medical Practice from 1972-1975. He retired in 1982 as Professor Emeritus of Family and Community Medicine. Dr. Baker was a charter member of the Society of Teachers of Family Medicine (STFM), a charter diplomate of the ABFP in 1970 and served as a Residency Assistance Program (RAP) consultant from 1975-1977. He died in 2009 in Mount Morris.

His collection consists of materials related to the founding of STFM, including the only known copy of the original set of STFM Constitution and Bylaws. Other materials include letters, announcements and reports of the first meeting, and photographs from the organizational meeting of STFM and the first meeting of the Constitutional Committee. The collection also contains miscellaneous articles about family medicine. Artifacts that belonged to Dr. Baker include a doctor's bag and two pill cases.

Barnett, B(enjamin) Lewis, Jr., MD (1926-2015)

2 boxes – See also: Library Collection

B. Lewis Barnett, Jr., MD was born in 1926 in Woodruff, South Carolina. After graduating in 1949 from the Medical College of South Carolina in Charleston, he interned at the Protestant Episcopal Hospital in Philadelphia, and then returned to Woodruff where he was in general practice from 1950 to 1970 (except for a two-year period where he served as a Senior Medical Officer in the US Navy from 1954 to 1956). In 1970, Dr. Barnett joined the faculty of the Medical University of South Carolina, where he served successively as assistant director of the Family Medicine Residency Program (1970-1972) and vice chairman of the Department of Family Practice (1973-1977). In 1977, Dr. Barnett became chairman of the Department of Family Medicine at the University of Virginia, where he also served as the first Walter M. Seward Professor of Family Medicine until his retirement in 2000. Throughout his career, Dr. Barnett served in various leadership positions within family medicine, notably as president of the ABFP (now ABFM) from 1980 to 1981; president of the South Carolina Academy of Family Physicians from 1975 to 1976; and vice president of STFM from 1974 to 1975. He was also the recipient of numerous awards, including the AAFP Thomas W. Johnson Award for Contributions to Family Practice education; and STFM's Certificate of Excellence and the F. Marian Bishop Award for furthering academic credibility of Family Medicine. Known as the "quintessential country doctor," Dr. Barnett was a noted lecturer and authored three books on the specialty: Between the Lines: Reflections of a Family Physician (1989); Pebbles in the Water (2003); and The Weaving of Threads (2008). Dr. Barnett died in Kennesaw, Georgia at the age of 88 in 2015.

The B. Lewis Barnett, Jr., MD Collection consists of Dr. Barnett's personal files, which includes copies and drafts of his speeches, articles and correspondence, as well as newspaper clippings and a 2003 proof of his book Pebbles in the Water.

Bishop, F. (Frances) Marian, PhD, MSPH (1927-2003)

1 box, 5 volumes of photograph albums – See also: Audiovisual Collection; Library Collection; Museum (Artifact) Collection; Photograph Collection; Plaques & Framed Items; and Oversized Collection

Born in 1927, F. Marian Bishop was an only child of Francis Marion and Hattie May Bishop of Springfield, Missouri. She was an extraordinary student with a lifelong devotion to education. During her seventy-five years, Bishop earned a remarkable seven college degrees. Her first was an Associate of Arts from Graceland College, completed in May 1947. She followed that with a Bachelor of Arts two years later from Drury College. Bishop earned her first Master's degree only one year later in 1950 from the University of Kansas, and followed that with a Master's degree in Education from Syracuse University in 1952. She then earned a PhD in Philosophy from Washington University in St. Louis in 1954; it is here that she met her husband Robert E. Froelich, MD, an academic medicine psychiatrist. That same year, she accepted her first teaching position at Lindenwood College in St. Charles, Missouri, where she served as Associate Professor of Sociology and Anthropology until 1956. She spent the following year in Frankfurt, Germany, as a visiting professor for the University of Maryland. In 1963, Bishop was recruited to join the University of Missouri Medical School in order to begin a new department in Behavioral Medicine. During her time in Columbia, she earned her Master of Science degree in Public Health (MSPH), which was her third Master's degree. Bishop was also, simultaneously, the Professor of Community Health and Medical Practice and Chairman of the Teaching Staff for Human Ecology and Behavioral Sciences until 1970. Bishop continued her career in Oklahoma City as a Professor of the Department of Community Health, Psychiatry, and Behavioral Sciences at the College of Medicine at the University of Oklahoma Health Services Center. In 1975, she accepted a position as Professor and Chairman of the Department of Community Medicine at the University of Alabama-Huntsville. During her time in Alabama, Bishop also served as a Professor in the Department of Public Health and Epidemiology at the University of Alabama-Birmingham. While at Alabama-Huntsville, Bishop became the first PhD president of the Association of Teachers of Preventive Medicine (ATPM, now the Association for Prevention Teaching and Research [APTR]), serving 1978-1979. She was also the first female president of the Society of Teachers of Family Medicine (STFM), serving 1981-1982. Bishop is the only individual to serve as president of both of these organizations. In 1984, she left Alabama for the University of Utah School of Medicine where she served as Chairman of the Department of Family and Preventive Medicine for ten years. She earned her seventh degree in 1998 when Park College (Missouri) bestowed her with an honorary PhD. Despite her decline in health, F. Marian Bishop remained actively involved in the University of Utah as a professor until her death from cancer in 2003. In addition to many other publications, Bishop authored the STFM 25th anniversary publication in 1992. Her awards and honors from the AAFP were many, and included the Thomas W. Johnson award for outstanding contribution to family practice education (AAFP, 1981); the John G. Walsh award (AAFP, 2002); and she was named an Honorary Member of the AAFP in 1994. Bishop's legacy as the "mother of academic family medicine" is reflected in her accomplishments. Several awards have been branded with her name as a result; the F. Marian Bishop Leadership Award (STFM); the Bishop Fellowship Program (STFM); and the F. Marian Bishop Educator of the Year Award (ATPM).

The F. Marian Bishop, PhD, MSPH Collection consists of materials that pertain mainly to STFM, particularly Dr. Bishop's personal connection with the organization. In addition to files that document the history of STFM, including her authorship of the history book in 1992, there are several scrapbooks and photo albums, including her STFM presidential scrapbook. Each year, STFM staff members compile this and give it to the outgoing president. Dr. Bishop also kept photo albums of STFM trips overseas, including to Greece and Brazil, and of many STFM activities. Her collection also includes many framed awards and plaques, and artifacts that reflect STFM's logo. This collection includes audiocassettes and transcripts of her oral history interviews for STFM's "Voices from Family Medicine" project from 1991-92, and a videotaped interview conducted by Dr. Daniel Ostergaard with Bishop in 2001.

Ross R. Black, II, MD, of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, was born in 1948 in Cleveland, Ohio. He earned his B.A. from Muskingum College in New Concord, Ohio and went to medical school at The Ohio State University, earning his MD in 1973. He completed his family practice residency at Akron City Hospital in 1976. While a resident, he attended the Ad Hoc Meeting of Family Practice Residents in 1974, which spawned the establishment of the National Conference of Family Practice Residents. He served as a resident delegate to the AAFP Congress of Delegates from 1974-1976. Following his residency, Dr. Black served in the US Navy as Lieutenant Commander from 1976-1978, where he was based at a teaching hospital in Pensacola, Florida. He returned to the AAFP in 1978 to become Assistant Director of the Division of Education. While there, he served as a consultant for the Residency Assistance Program (RAP), and taught at the University of Kansas Department of Family Medicine as an assistant clinical professor. In 1981, Dr. Black left the AAFP to become the Associate Director of the Family Practice Residency at Akron City Hospital and Clinical Professor at the Department of Family Medicine, Northeast Ohio Universities College of Medicine. He still holds the latter title, but in 1988 he left the residency post to go back into private practice where he remains today. His honors and leadership roles in family medicine are extensive. Within the Ohio AFP, he served on the Board of Directors (1983-2001) and as speaker, treasurer, vice president, and president (1992-93). He is an AAFP Fellow and ABFP diplomate, was named Family Practice Teacher of the Year twice during his time at Akron City Hospital, and was named Ohio Family Physician of the Year in 1998. In that same year, he won election to the AAFP Board of Directors, serving until 2001. He also served on the AAFP Foundation Board of Trustees from 1999-2005, on the ABFM Board of Directors from 2004-2009, and has served on various committees within STFM.

The bulk of Dr. Black's collection consists of materials relating to his receiving the Ohio Family Physician of the Year Award in 1998, and being elected to the AAFP Board of Directors in that same year. These materials include correspondence, press releases, and articles from various publications.

Bordelon, F.P., Jr., MD (1921-2004)

Stored in Reference File

A self-styled country doctor, Dr. F(ilmore) P. Bordelon, Jr. was born in Longbridge, Louisiana in 1921 and graduated from the Louisiana State University (LSU) Medical School in 1945. In 1947, after serving two years in the United States Navy, he began practicing medicine as a general practitioner in Marksville, Avoyelles Parish, Louisiana. An active member of the AAFP throughout his career, he was the recipient of the 1989 Louisiana Family Doctor of the Year Award. In 1975 he was appointed coroner for Avoyelles Parish, and later served as president of the State Coroner's Association and the State Hospital Board, and as a member of the State Board of Medical Examiners and the State Board of Practical Nurse Examiners. He also was elected to serve as president of the Louisiana State Medical Society in 1968. In 1998, Dr. Bordelon retired from his office practice after more than 50 years in the profession, but continued seeing patients at three area nursing homes and a local prison. Dr. Bordelon died on May 4, 2004 at the age of 82.

The F.P. Bordelon, Jr., MD Collection consists of one photocopied scrapbook on Dr. Bordelon's life and career covering the period 1958 to 1998.

Bowen, Otis R., MD (1918-2013)

1968, 1975, 1985-1986

Otis R. Bowen, MD was born in 1918 near Rochester, Indiana. He graduated from Indiana University and earned his MD from Indiana University Medical School in 1942. After graduating, he completed an internship at Epworth Hospital in South Bend, and then served three years in the Army Medical Corps, going ashore on Okinawa with his medical unit in 1945. He rose in rank from 1st lieutenant to captain and left the service in 1946. After that, he returned to Indiana and set up a private practice in Bremen, Indiana, where he practiced family medicine until 1972. Dr. Bowen began his political career in 1952 with his election as county coroner, and eventually served multiple terms as a member of the Indiana House of Representatives from 1956-1957 and 1960-1972, serving served as speaker of the House through four legislative sessions. In 1968, Bowen ran for governor of Indiana but was defeated. In 1972, he was elected governor and served two terms from 1973-1981. He was the first governor of the state to serve two consecutive terms since 1851. After leaving the governor's office, Dr. Bowen joined the Indiana University School of Medicine as a clinical professor in family medicine, and served as chairman of the Advisory Commission on Social Security from 1982-1984. In 1985, he was nominated by President Ronald Reagan for the position of Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services, remaining until 1989. He was the first medical doctor to serve in this position. Following his term as HHS Secretary, Dr. Bowen retired to his home in Bremen, Indiana. In the 1990s, Indiana University honored him in several ways, including the establishment of the Otis R. Bowen Research Center, the Otis R. Bowen, MD, Distinguished Leadership Award, and the Otis R. Bowen Professorship of Family Medicine. In 2012, he was awarded the Ryan White Distinguished Leadership Award by the Rural Center for AIDS/STD Prevention at Indiana University's School of Health, Physical Education and Recreation. His autobiography, entitled Doc: Memories from a Life in Public Service, was published in 2000. The AAFP awarded him the John G. Walsh Award for Lifetime Contributions to Family Medicine in 2007. He died on May 4, 2013.

Materials in this collection pertain primarily to Dr. Bowen's unsuccessful campaign for governor in 1968. These include flyers, articles, correspondence, and ephemera. There is also an article about his keynote speech to the 1975 AAFP Scientific Assembly, and some correspondence and interview notes from his years as Secretary of Health and Human Services.

Brown, Michael J., MD (1943-)

1974, 1981-1998

Michael J. Brown, MD, of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, was born in 1943. He earned his BA in zoology from the South Dakota School of Mines and Technology (now the University of South Dakota) in 1966. He earned a BS in medicine from USD in 1968, and his MD from the University of Texas School of Medicine, San Antonio, in 1970. After completing an internship at Sioux Valley Hospital in 1971, Dr. Brown spent the next three years at the US Air Force Academy Hospital in Colorado Springs, and then entered private practice in Spearfish, South Dakota, in 1974. Dr. Brown served on the South Dakota AAFP Board of Directors and as President from 1985-1986, and as delegate from South Dakota to the AAFP Congress of Delegates. A clinical professor of Family Medicine at the University of South Dakota School of Medicine (USD SM), he was awarded the Edward D. Batt Award as outstanding faculty member in 1984-1985. He became an AAFP Fellow in 1992, and in 1993, was named the South Dakota Family Physician of the Year. In 1994, he moved his practice to Sioux Falls, South Dakota. Dr. Brown also served as editor of the South Dakota AAFP Newsletter in 1998.

Materials in this collection reflect the management of Dr. Brown's private practice in Spearfish from 1974-1994, and his move to a practice in Sioux Falls in 1994. Items in the collection include newsletters written for patients, an article about a new clinic location, invitations to new practice locations, and editor's notes from the SDAFP newsletter. Also included are numerous congratulatory letters and cards received by Dr. Brown when he was named South Dakota Family Physician of the Year, as well as letters of recommendation for that award. A small collection of scanned photographs was transferred to the Photograph Collection under Dr. Brown's name.

Budoff, Penny Wise, MD (1939-2008)

1 slim document case – See also: Library Collection

Penny Wise Budoff, MD was born in 1939 in Albany, New York. She attended the University of Wisconsin-Madison and earned her BA from Syracuse University in 1959. After receiving her MD from the State University of New York Upstate Medical Center in 1963, she completed an internship the same year at St. Luke's Hospital in Utica, New York. She then entered the private practice of medicine in 1964 and maintained a practice for 33 years in various locations on Long Island. An ABFP diplomate since 1973, she held various academic appointments with SUNY-Stony Brook and Cornell University from 1974-1998. In 1977, she published a groundbreaking study titled "Dysmenorrhea, New Treatment," in the American Journal of Obstetrics/ Gynecology. This was the first clinical study to prove that menstrual cramps were physiological, rather than psychological in origin. She continued to conduct studies in the late 1970s and early 1980s (some of which were published in the Journal of the American Medical Association and the New England Journal of Medicine on various aspects of menstrual pain and other issues related to women's health. Dr. Budoff eventually published several books on these topics that eventually became best sellers. In 1985, she opened the Penny Wise Budoff, MD Women's Medical Center on Long Island, described as an "innovative women's comprehensive care center that offers integrated multispecialty care of patients." She died in 2008 after moving to Delray Beach, Florida following her retirement from medicine in 1997.

The Penny Wise Budoff, MD Collection contains articles about Dr. Budoff and her health center, brochures about her vitamin and skin care line called Bonne Forme®, and copies of her scientific research studies on hormone replacement therapy, dysmenorrhea, and premenstrual syndrome.

Burdette, James A., MD (1925-2011)

1958, 1963-1965, 1968-1969, 1981

1 slim document case – See also: Photograph Collection

James A. Burdette, MD was born in Knoxville, Tennessee in 1925. After serving in the U.S. Army from 1943-1946, he earned a BA in 1949 from the University of Tennessee in Knoxville, and a BS in 1952 from the University of Tennessee-Memphis. In the same year, he earned his MD from the University of Tennessee College of Medicine (Memphis). Following graduation, Dr. Burdette completed an internship at Shreveport Charity Hospital and a rotating residency in general surgery at Knoxville General Hospital. He joined the AAGP in 1955, the same year he entered private practice in Knoxville, where he remained in practice until 1972. In 1967-1968, Dr. Burdette was a research fellow in family medicine at Children's Hospital Medical Center at Harvard Medical School. He held numerous academic appointments from 1969-2000, at the following institutions: University of Tennessee-Knoxville, University of Kentucky at Lexington, Bowman Gray School of Medicine in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, and East Tennessee State University in Johnson City. Notably, he served as professor and chairman of the Department of Family Practice at the University of Kentucky-Lexington from 1972-1976. Dr. Burdette's involvement in family medicine organizations was long and varied, and included service in the Tennessee, Kentucky, and North Carolina constituent chapters, and in the AAGP/AAFP, NAPCRG, and STFM. Dr. Burdette was a charter ABFP diplomate in 1970, and was named an AAFP Fellow in 1973. He received the Tennessee Academy's General Practitioner of the Year Award in 1970, and served as a delegate from Tennessee to the AAGP/AAFP Congress of Delegates from 1964-1972. In addition, he was a member of the Ambulatory Sentinel Practices Network (ASPN), and gave numerous scientific presentations and published many scientific papers. In 1982, Dr. Burdette moved to Lenoir City, Tennessee, where he established a private practice which served the local community there until 1998. After he retired from practice in 1998, he moved back to Knoxville. He died in 2011.

This collection consists of significant materials pertaining to Dr. Burdette's participation in early efforts to establish a certification board for family practice. Dr. Burdette was part of the Sponsoring Founders Group, American Board of Family Practice, which was an earlier incarnation of what would eventually become the ABFP/ABFM. Much of this collection consists of correspondence between members of this founders group such as Drs. Thomas Rardin, Nicholas Pisacano, Vernon Wilson, and other supporters of the movement.

Burket, George E., "Ned" Jr., MD (1912-2008)

George E. Burket Jr., MD, was born in 1912 in the small town of Kingman, Kansas and spent the majority of his life there. Encouraged by his father George E. Burket, Sr., a dentist, and inspired by Dr. Haskins, a Kingman physician, the lifelong Kansan attended Wichita State University before obtaining his medical training from the University of Kansas; he graduated in 1937. In the two years after medical school, Burket completed an internship and residency in surgery at Santa Barbara General Hospital in California. Aware of the shortage of family physicians in rural communities, Burket returned to Kingman and opened his medical practice which he ran for thirty-three years. Burket became a member of the Kansas chapter of the AAGP, the Kansas Academy of General Practice (KAGP), a year after it was formed in 1948. He served as the fifth KAGP President from 1953-1954 before heading to Boston on a fellowship from Harvard. He completed his postgraduate surgical training at Massachusetts General Hospital in 1956. As president of the KAGP, Burket was selected for a national committee of the AAGP which introduced him to the political side of family medicine and he soon had the so-called "political bug." After much persuasion from KAGP founder Clyde Miller, Burket ran for the AAGP Board of Directors. Because Burket supported the inclusion of general practice as a specialty, strong opposition emerged from GPs who were unwilling to relinquish their surgical rights. Burket won by one vote in 1964, serving as a board member until 1966 and as Chairman of the Board of Directors from 1966 to 1967. He became the president of the Kansas Medical Society during that span as well in 1965. After his stint as Chairman, Burket became the AAGP President, serving 1968-1969, and remained exceedingly interested in the education of future physicians. As chairman and president, Burket was involved in applying to the American Board of Medical Specialties (ABMS) to make family practice the newest specialty. The third application was successful in 1969 approving the American Board of Family Practice (now Medicine) as the nation's twentieth medical specialty board. He was also essential in changing the association's title to American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP), which became official in 1971. Burket then served on the ABFP Board of Directors from 1969-1977, including a period as its president from 1975-1977. At the end of his illustrious career, Burket was a full-time professor for the University of Kansas Medical Center for an eight-year span between 1973 and 1981 before retiring to his hometown of Kingman.

The George E. Burket, Jr., MD Collection consists of articles and publications about Dr. Burket, his Academy service, and family medicine at the KU Medical Center; addresses, speeches, and presentations; correspondence; meeting programs and invitations; newspaper clippings; certificates and awards; and biographical information about Dr. Burket. One notable file contains a handwritten list of Preceptors from KU Medical Center, dated 1950-1966, 1969, 1972.

Cain, Jeffrey J., MD (1959-)

Born in 1959 and raised in the town of Sherwood, Oregon (where he grew up in a home formerly owned by Dr. Thomas L. Stern of the AAFP), Jeffrey J. Cain, MD graduated from Willamette University in Salem, Oregon with a bachelor's degree in mathematics and chemistry and received his medical degree from the Oregon Health Sciences University in Portland, Oregon in 1985. He completed his family medicine residency at the Mercy Family Medicine Residency program in Denver, Colorado, where he served as chief resident from 1988 to 1989. An active member of the AAFP since 1986, on the state level, he is a past president of the Colorado Academy of Family Physicians and has served on the Board of Directors of the Colorado AFP since 1990. He has also served on several statewide boards, including the Colorado Medical Services Board, the board for the Colorado State Tobacco Education and Prevention Program and the Colorado Children's Immunization Coalition, in which capacities he has been instrumental in helping to pass and implement legislation defining the patient-centered medical home in Colorado and improving access to care for the underserved. Since 2001, he has served as Chief of Family Medicine at Children's Hospital Colorado.

On the national level, in 1988 Dr. Cain co-founded the Tar Wars tobacco-free education program. Under his leadership, Tar Wars has grown to be one of the AAFP's most respected outreach programs, and has reached more than 8.5 million children in all 50 states and in 14 countries. Dr. Cain's work with Tar Wars has been recognized by the World Health Organization, which awarded him a Special Recognition Medical for Tobacco Control in 1990, and by the AAFP, which awarded him its Public Health Award in 1995. In 1996, following an accident and hospitalization, Dr. Cain has been walking with bilateral below the knee prosthetic legs. As a member of the board of directors of the Amputee Coalition of America (ACA) since 1996, Dr. Cain started the ACA's national prosthetic insurance fairness campaign, which has resulted in the passage of laws in twenty states requiring insurance coverage for prosthetics as well as the introduction of federal legislation in this area. In addition, Dr. Cain has also completed and taught nationally in adaptive sports and has introduced a new adaptive ski device—the ski-bike—to North America. Dr. Cain served on the AAFP Board of Directors from 2008-2011 and as AAFP President 2012-2013.

The Jeffrey J. Cain, MD Collection consists of documents and other materials relating to the history and development of the Tar Wars tobacco-free education program which was cofounded by Dr. Cain in 1988. Materials include organizational documents detailing the history of the program; lesson plans; tool kits; and miscellaneous Tar Wars-related souvenirs and other memorabilia.

Carmichael, Lynn P., MD (1928-2009)

1959-1994

4 boxes – See also: Audiovisual Collection; Oversized Collection; Photograph Collection; and Slide Collection

Lynn P. Carmichael, MD, was born in Louisville, Kentucky in 1928, but raised in the small town of Mooresville, Indiana. He discovered his calling early in life, finding inspiration from his family's physician, Dr. Kenneth Comer. After graduating from Indiana University, Carmichael attended the University of Louisville Medical School, earning his MD in 1952, after which he accepted an army internship at Brooke Army Hospital in San Antonio, Texas. During the Korean War, Carmichael served as a First Lieutenant and Regimental Surgeon in the Medical Company of the 17th Infantry Regiment. From 1952-1954, Carmichael earned a number of awards: Korean Service Medal, National Defense Service Medal, United Nations Service Medal, Bronze Star Medal, and one overseas service bar. After the war, Carmichael moved to Miami, Florida, first obtaining experience at Kendall Hospital, which served as a medical facility for the impoverished people of southern Dade County. After the hospital closed, Carmichael ventured into solo practice in Coconut Grove, a suburb of Miami. He remained in this position for ten years, including managing the practice while completing a one-year internship at Harvard. It was during his time in Boston that Carmichael developed a plan for family medicine as an academic specialty and led him to author an article, "Teaching Family Medicine," which appeared in the Journal of the American Medical Association in 1965. Shortly thereafter, Carmichael received a much-needed grant of $37,500 from the Women's Cancer Association at the University of Miami which he used to enter the medical school as a faculty member (the first to specialize in teaching family medicine) and chaired the department until his retirement in 1997. Two years later in 1967, Carmichael helped found the Society of Teachers of Family Medicine (STFM) to further the advancement of family practice as an academic discipline and was its first president. For his many accomplishments, he is considered by many to be the "father of family medicine." Dr. Carmichael died on June 19, 2009.

The Lynn P. Carmichael, MD Collection includes articles by or about Carmichael, the University of Miami Department of Family Medicine, or family medicine in general. These materials are arranged chronologically. There are also materials from a notebook Carmichael labeled "Evolution of Department of Family Medicine," as well as items from a scrapbook from the mid-1960s that pertained to Miami's program and the establishment of STFM. Other materials in this collection are a folder containing Carmichael's handwritten notes on Studies in Family Medicine, a conference held in Miami in 1980 and a folder about STFM's 25th Anniversary in 1992.

1 box – See also: Museum (Artifact) Collection and Photograph Collection

Walter Austin Carr was born in 1877 in Decatur County, Iowa. At an early age, he moved with his family to Kansas, and after attending Washburn College in Topeka and the Topeka Business College, he eventually entered Northwestern University in Chicago, where he received his MD degree in 1905. After briefly practicing in Chapman, Kansas and as a physician at the National Old Soldiers Home in Leavenworth, Dr. Carr established his practice in Junction City, Kansas in 1906. There, for some 50 years, Dr. Carr practiced medicine and was a leading member of the community, helping to establish Junction City's first hospital, and serving in various roles throughout the years as health officer, City Commissioner, and as President of the Chamber of Commerce. During World War I, Dr. Carr also served overseas as a surgeon with the 89th Infantry Division. He died in Junction City in 1975 at the age of 98.

The Walter A. Carr, MD Collection consists of photocopied material relating to Dr. Carr's family genealogy; his education records; copies of materials relating to his medical practice, including his Kansas State licensure records and extracts from medical directories; newspaper articles and family histories; and records relating to his military service in World War I. In addition, the collection includes an original Day Book from Dr. Carr's practice covering the period 1911 to 1913 (now held in the Museum Collection), as well as a collection of photographs which includes a portrait of Dr. Carr in his World War I uniform and an assortment of photographs taken at medical meetings during the 1970s and 1980s, which are now part of the Photograph Collection.

Cox, James F., Jr., MD (1921-2012)

1 slim document case

James Franklin Knox, Jr., MD was born on November 16, 1921 in Abilene, Texas. After graduating from Abilene Christian College, he enlisted in the U.S. Navy and enrolled in medical school at The University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston. After completing his military service, he graduated in 1946 with an MD degree and began his practice in Houston, Texas as a family physician. In 1952, he contracted polio from one of his patients and nearly died of the disease, but made a miraculous recovery, and was able to return to his practice. Dr. Cox served as a practicing family physician for more than 54 years. He died in Tyler, Texas on June 4, 2012 at the age of ninety.

The James F. Cox, MD Collection consists of a transcript of an interview with Dr. Cox from 1996; three undated articles on Dr. Cox, a photograph of instruments used by him in his practice; a letter dated December 18, 1998 from a family member of one of his patients thanking him for his care of her mother; and a copy of Dr. Cox's 2012 obituary. Also included are two books owned and used by Dr. Cox in his practice: Manual of Skin Diseases by Gordon C. Sauer, 2nd ed. (Philadelphia: J.B. Lippincott., 1966); and Lederle Laboratories Division, American Cyanamid Company, Atlas of Human Anatomy (Pearl River, NY: By the Author, 1956).

Hiram Benjamin Curry, MD was born in 1927 in Jasper, Florida. After graduating in 1950 from the Medical College of South Carolina in Charleston, he interned at the Philadelphia General Hospital, and then returned to Jasper where he was in general practice from 1951 to 1957. Following this, Dr. Curry embarked on a new career as a neurologist, serving among other positions as a research fellow at the University of Lund in Sweden (1961-1962), and as a research and clinical fellow in Neurology and Teaching Fellow in Neurology at Massachusetts General Hospital and Harvard Medical School from 1962 to 1963. In 1970, he became a charter diplomate of the ABFP (now ABFM) and returned to the Medical College of South Carolina, where he established the Department of Family Practice, serving as its Chairman for nineteen years, until his death in 1989.

The Hiram B. Curry, MD Collection consists of Dr. Curry's files as Chairman of the Department of Family Practice at the Medical College of South Carolina from 1970 to 1982. The files are arranged chronologically, and contain department directories and publications, as well as correspondence, newspaper clippings and lectures. Separate files also include early correspondence relating to the establishment of the department and a department bibliography, as well as files on department history.

Darley, Ward, Jr., MD (1903-1979)

1 slim document case – See also: Photograph Collection

Ward Darley, Jr., MD, was born in 1903 in Colorado. He received his AB degree in 1926 and his MD in 1929, both from the University of Colorado. Upon completion of his medical degree, he worked for thirteen years in private practice in Denver. In 1945, he joined the University of Colorado College of Medicine as dean, served as professor from 1946-1956, and then served as president of the university from 1953 to 1956. During his time at the university, a general medical clinic established at Denver General Hospital became a widely recognized educational experiment in comprehensive medical care, a special focus of his career. Dr. Darley was elected to the executive council of the Association of American Medical Colleges (AAMC) in 1945 and became president in 1952, serving that same year as a member of President Truman's Commission on the Health Needs of the Nation. Dr. Darley was the AAMC's first full-time Executive Director from 1956-1964. When he retired, the AAMC awarded him its highest honor, the Abraham Flexner Award for Distinguished Service to Medical Education. Throughout his career, Dr. Darley was a significant and influential voice within family medicine. In 1966-1967, he served as the chairman or moderator for a series of conferences sponsored by the FHFA on the role of the family physician in comprehensive care. He was credited as suggesting that "a society of teachers of family medicine" might seek representation on the Council of Academic Societies, which led to the founding of STFM in 1967. He later served as a contributing editor to STFM's Family Medicine Times and was named an honorary STFM member. He died in 1979 in Laguna Hills, California.

The Ward Darley, Jr., MD Collection consists of one item, a letter written by Dr. Darley to Leland Blanchard, MD on February 12, 1977. In the letter, Dr. Darley thanks Blanchard for loaning his file on Family Medicine. This file is believed to be part of the missing “Blanchard papers.” The provenance of this letter is unclear and how the letter became separated from the other materials of Dr. Blanchard’s is a mystery. The letter also details Dr. Darley’s opinions on efforts to establish a board of family practice, documenting who supported a board and who was against it, and whether family physicians should have surgical privileges.

Depew, Harry W., MD (1919-2007)

1977, 1982-2000

Harry W. Depew, MD, was born in 1919 in Los Angeles. He earned his BA at the University of California-Berkeley in 1941, and his MD from the George Washington University Medical School in Washington, D.C. in 1946. After serving an internship at Los Angeles County General Hospital in 1946-1947, he served in the US Navy as a Medical Officer from 1947-1949. Following his discharge, from 1949-1951, he completed a rotating residency and an ob/gyn residency at Kern County General Hospital in Bakersfield. In 1951, he entered private practice in San Diego. During his career, he frequently served as a preceptor for medical students, and the University of California-San Diego established a scholarship award in his honor. Dr. Depew, who was fluent in sign language, had many deaf and hearing impaired patients. He was a strong advocate for serving patients with hearing impairments because both of his parents and two of his sisters were deaf. He served on the CAFP Board of Directors and in 1991 served as president of the California Academy of Family Physicians. He was a charter fellow of the AAFP in 1973, and a charter diplomate of the ABFP in 1972. Included among his highest honors was being named the California Family Physician of the Year for 1999, and the AAFP Family Physician of the Year for 2000. He died in 2007 in San Diego.

Materials in this collection include correspondence, articles, awards and certificates, and documents relating to Dr. Depew’s service on the California AFP Board of Directors. Included are also several presidential addresses and president’s messages from Dr. Depew that were published in the California Family Physician, as well as items related to his awards as CAFP and AAFP Family Physician of the Year. Among the miscellaneous files, there are materials pertaining to Dr. Depew’s strong advocacy regarding the 1991 establishment of a family practice program at his alma mater, George Washington University Medical Center. A small collection of photographs were transferred to the Photograph Collection under his name.

John (Jack) S. DeTar, MD was born in 1902 in Detroit. He attended Detroit Junior College and received his BS from the University of Michigan. Dr. DeTar earned his MD in 1931 from Detroit College of Medicine (now Wayne State University), supporting his family during that time by working nights at the Briggs Body Plant. He then served an internship at Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit and moved to Milan in 1931, where he was in general practice until 1973. After retiring in 1973 he moved to Sun City, Arizona, splitting his time between that community and Bellaire, Michigan. Dr. DeTar was named Michigan's Foremost Family Physician in 1948 and received the Detroit College of Medicine Distinguished Alumni Award in 1956. As a member of the AAGP, he served as speaker of the Congress of Delegates from 1951-1955 and served as AAGP president from 1956-1957. He also served the Michigan State Medical Society as speaker for two terms. He died in 1996 in Bellaire.

The John (Jack) S. DeTar, MD Collection consists of one item, a rough draft of the Address of the President, presented to the 1957 AAGP Congress of Delegates in St. Louis, Missouri. The draft runs 34 pages in length. There are numerous markings in different ink colors and presumably by different editors, including the author. A heavily edited final version of DeTar's presidential address was published in the July 1957 issue of GP.

DeVries, Jan, MD (1928-)

2 boxes and 1 oversized volume of account records

Jan R.J. deVries, MD, was born in 1928 in Malang, East Java, Indonesia, where his father worked as an employee of the Dutch government in horticulture. During World War II, the deVries family was captured by the Japanese when they invaded Indonesia. They were subsequently sent to a prison camp, where Dr. deVries' mother died of starvation. After being set free from the camp in 1945, Dr. deVries went to the Netherlands, where he graduated with an MD degree from Leiden University School of Medicine in 1952. After completing his internship at Leiden University Hospital in the Netherlands, Dr. deVries returned to Indonesia, where he worked from 1956 to 1960 as a missionary physician. In 1961, he came to the United States, and after serving a second internship at the Washington Sanitarium and Hospital in Takoma Park, Maryland, he went into private general practice in Boswell, Pennsylvania. In Boswell, Dr. deVries became an active member of the Pennsylvania Academy of Family Physicians, serving as President of the PAFP from 1983-1984 and again from 1990-1991. He also received the Pennsylvania Family Physician of the Year Award in 1996.

The Jan deVries, MD Collection consists of Dr. deVries' anesthesia records from his service in Indonesia from 1956-1957; 1 small and 1 large (oversized) ledger holding account records from his office practice from 1962 to 1969; a daily log of four volumes covering his activities while in practice from 1962 to 1965; and other files, which include a c.v., newspaper clippings, brief memoirs, and an account of his time practicing in Indonesia entitled "Sumedang Story."

Elliott, Olin A., MD (1906-1982)

1926-1982

1 box – See also: Museum (Artifact) Collection and Oversized Collection

Olin Austin Elliott, MD was born in 1906 in Griswold, Iowa, the son of an osteopathic physician who was also an ordained minister. Originally intending to become a science teacher, he enrolled in the Nebraska State Teachers College. As he was completing his second year, he decided to go on to medical school instead, and graduated from the University of Nebraska School of Medicine in Omaha in 1930. After an internship at Iowa Methodist Hospital in Des Moines, Iowa, Dr. Elliott went into general practice in Des Moines in 1931. During World War II, he served as a captain in the Medical Corps of the U.S. Army Air Corps, and saw service at various locations throughout the United States. Following the war, he returned to Des Moines, where he practiced until his death in 1982. He was a member of the AAGP since 1948, and was elected a Fellow of the AAFP in 1975. Described by one colleague as “a delightful, well-rounded doctor, loved and respected by patients, colleagues, family, and acquaintances alike,” Dr. Elliott was renowned for his compassion and dedication to his craft. In 1957, when his wife was diagnosed with ALS (Lou Gehrig’s disease), he became her primary caretaker while still continuing his medical practice, providing her with medical treatment until her death in 1960. In later years he volunteered at a clinic for the homeless in Des Moines, and even after being diagnosed with pancreatic cancer in 1981 he continued to care for his patients, up until the day of his death.

Dr. Elliott’s collection consists of his class notes (bound in three volumes) from his 1926 pathology class in medical school; his medical license from the State of Nebraska in 1931, along with other certificates and correspondence relating to his medical practice; professional appointment books from 1935 to 1936; his commission as a captain in the Medical Corps in 1943; and several photographs, as well as obituaries of Dr. Elliott. In addition, the Center also holds Dr. Elliott’s medical bag, which contains instruments and other items used by Dr. Elliott throughout his years in practice.

Eugene Shedden Farley, Jr., was born in Pennsylvania in 1927. After graduation from the University of Rochester School of Medicine in 1949, he interned at the Philadelphia General Hospital and a received residency training in General Practice at the University of Colorado Medical Center and Denver General Hospital. From 1954-1956, Dr. Farley and his wife Linda (“Lindy”), also a general practitioner, served in the US Public Health Service as field medical officers in charge of the Navajo-Cornell Clinic on the Navajo Tribal Reservation at Many Farms, Arizona. Following this, they went into private rural practice in Arizona and New York. In 1967, Dr. Farley received his MPH degree from Johns Hopkins University, and that same year he joined the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry as associate professor in the Departments of Medicine, Pediatrics, and Preventive Dentistry, becoming a full professor in 1972. Dr. Farley, widely recognized as one of the pioneering leaders in the specialty, established the Family Practice Program at Rochester, where he served as its first director from 1967 until 1978. The program at Rochester was one of the first fifteen family practice residency programs in the

US to be approved by the Residency Review Committee on Family Practice in December 1968. In 1978, he joined the University of Colorado Medical Center as professor and chairman of the Department of Family Medicine. In 1982, he left the University of Colorado to become professor and chairman of the Department of Family Medicine and Practice at the University of Wisconsin, where he retired in 1992. In retirement, Dr. Farley and his wife became actively involved in a variety of social and political causes which emphasized the need for universal health care, prompting his unsuccessful candidacy for a seat in the US House of Representatives from Wisconsin in 1996. Dr. Farley was one of the founding members of NAPCRG in 1972 and was the recipient of numerous awards, including the AAFP's John G. Walsh Award for Lifetime Contributions to Family Medicine in 2009. Following the death of his wife in 2009, Dr. Farley died at the age of 86 in 2013.

The Eugene S. Farley, Jr., MD, MPH Collection consists of Dr. Farley's professional files from his service at the Universities of Rochester, Colorado and Wisconsin; files relating to his work in International Family Medicine/Family Practice; copies of his speeches and articles (including numerous drafts and unfinished works); and correspondence and newspaper clippings. Also included is Dr. Farley's notebook from his Psychopathology course while a medical student at the University of Rochester from 1951-1952.

Michael O. Fleming, MD was born in 1950 in Monroe, Louisiana. He completed undergraduate work at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge, and earned his MD from LSU School of Medicine in Shreveport in 1975. After completing a family practice residency at LSU Affiliated Hospitals in Shreveport in 1978, he entered a solo private practice in Shreveport for two years, then established a group private practice there in 1980. He has filled several academic roles, including assistant clinical professor in the Department of Family Medicine at Louisiana State University Health Science Center and the Department of Family and Community Medicine at Tulane University Medical School. Dr. Fleming served as president of the Louisiana Academy of Family Physicians in 1987-1988 and was named Louisiana Family Doctor of the Year in 1996. In addition to serving on several AAFP committees, he has served as vice speaker, speaker, and AAFP president from 2003-2004. Since its establishment in 2005, Dr. Fleming has also served as the chair of the FamMedPAC Board of Directors. He is an AAFP Fellow and an ABFP Diplomate.

The Michael O. Fleming, MD Collection consists of newspaper articles about Dr. Fleming, materials related to his campaign for AAFP president-elect, and letterhead and business cards from his AAFP leadership roles. Photographs in his collection date from around 2002-2003. Also included in the Center's audiovisual collections is a videotape donated by Dr. Fleming from the 2003 AAFP Officers Installation, and as part of the Museum Collection are two framed items from his holdings, including the program from the 2004 AAFP/WONCA opening ceremony.

Thelma E. Frank Blake, MD was born in 1910 on a ranch in south Texas and graduated from high school in Falfurrias, Texas. After completing her premed requirements at Texas College of Arts & Industries (A&I) in Kingsville, she earned her MD from the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston in 1935. Following a rotating internship at Grace Hospital in Detroit, Michigan, she returned to Texas to set up a medical practice in the oil fields of Freer and Benavides, serving as the first female physician employed by the Magnolia Oil Company. In 1941, Dr. Frank Blake moved to Corpus Christi and set up a private practice there. In 1946, she did postgraduate work in anesthesiology and until 1948, she concentrated her practice in that specialty. She returned to a private general practice after that and continued it until 1972, when she worked on developing the Family Practice Residency program at Memorial Medical Center in Corpus Christi. She served as Associate Director of the residency program until 1976, when she retired, at which point she moved to Rockport with her second husband. Following his death in 1991, she moved to Austin. She was instrumental in several community health efforts, including setting up a free health care program for children at the YWCA, and during World War II, she was one of the few practicing doctors in the area since most men were away in the service. The American Medical Women's Association named her one of ten Outstanding Medical Women of 1961, and she was elected the first vice president of the Texas Academy of General Practice in 1968. She died in 2000 in Austin, Texas.

The Thelma E. Frank Blake, MD Collection, which was donated posthumously by her daughter Catherine Lusk, consists of articles about Dr. Frank Blake, her obituary, and a certificate issued to her in 1951 for Disaster Preparedness for Atomic Warfare. There are several artifacts donated as part of her collection as well, including a microscope, emergency kit from a doctor's bag, a sample kit of medications, and a Baumanometer blood pressure apparatus, all of which are housed in the Center's Museum (Artifact) Collection.

John J. Frey III, MD, was born in 1944 in Kansas City, Missouri. He earned his B.A. at Notre Dame University in 1966, and in 1970 graduated from Northwestern University School of Medicine in Evanston, Illinois. During medical school, he was active in student organizations such as the Medical Committee for Human Rights, Free Clinic organization, Literary Society, and Student Health Action Committee. He completed a rotating internship at Cook County Hospital in Chicago, 1970-1971, and then trained under Lynn Carmichael, MD, at the University of Miami Family Practice Residency, completing that in 1973. That year he became acting director of the Family Health and Social Service Center in Worcester, Massachusetts, and until 1980 served in various positions at the University of Massachusetts Medical School, including acting program director, curriculum director for third-year family practice residents, and associate professor. From 1979-1980, he was assistant in general practice and licensed by the National Health Service in Glynccorwg, South Wales, UK. In 1980, he moved to the Department of Family Medicine at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He held numerous positions there, including associate professor, director of the Section on Educational Development, vice chairman, acting chairman, and professor. In 1993, he moved to the Department of Family Medicine at the University of Wisconsin-Madison Medical School, serving as Chair from 1993-2006 and Professor from 1993-2012. He was named Emeritus Professor of Family Medicine in 2012. He also serves as head of community engagement with the University of Wisconsin Institute for Clinical and Translational Research. Dr. Frey was instrumental in planning and implementing the Keystone III Conference in October 2000, from which the Future of Family Medicine (FFM) Project was an outcome.

Dr. Frey has extensive experience in writing and publishing, including serving as Editor of Family Medicine (1984-1991); Editor of WMJ, the Wisconsin Medical Society's journal (2006-present); and Associate Editor of Annals of Family Medicine (2007-present). He was named a Kellogg National Fellow (1984-1987), received the STFM Recognition Award (1987), the Lyndhurst Prize (1989-1992), STFM President's Award (1992), ADFM Recognition Award for Contributions to Education (2006), the F. Marian Bishop Award from STFM (2006), the Folkert O. Belzer Award from the University of Wisconsin School of Medicine and Public Health (2010), and the Wisconsin Medical Society's prestigious Director's Award in 2015. He was a member of the STFM Board of Directors from 1997-2000, serving as STFM President in 1998-1999. Dr. Frey currently maintains homes in Santa Fe, New Mexico and Madison, Wisconsin.

The John J. Frey III, MD Collection includes materials related to meetings and conferences attended by Dr. Frey, including planning and outcome materials pertaining to the Keystone III meeting held in October 2000. Also represented are several Spanish language books related to family medicine in Latin America. A significant portion of Dr. Frey's collection consists of files and transcripts related to oral history interviews that were conducted between 1987 and 2006, as well as the original recordings for many of interviews.

Dr. John Geyman graduated from Princeton University, and attended the University of California School of Medicine at Berkeley where he received the Gold Headed Cane Award upon graduation in 1960. An internship and residency were completed in Los Angeles and Santa Rosa followed by nine years of private practice. Then in 1969, he moved into the administrative area of medicine as the director of the Community Hospital of Sonoma County Family Practice Program. Next, he spent a year at the University of Utah where he served as Chairman of Family Practice as well as director of its Residency Program. This was the same time that he penned his first book, "The Modern Doctor and Changing Medical Practice". Once again, California became his home from 1972 to 1976 when he served as a professor, vice chairman and director for the University of California School of Medicine's Department of Family Practice in Davis. During this time, Dr. Geyman became a charter member of the American Board of Family Practice as well as a charter fellow of the American Academy of Family Physicians. He also became the founding editor of "The Journal of Family Practice". Then on December 1, 1976, he made a pivotal move to Seattle, Washington, where he joined the University's School of Medicine as professor and chairman of the Department of Family Medicine. In 1990, he retired as Professor Emeritus and received the Curtis B. Hames Research Award. This was the same time that he served as editor of the Journal of the American Board of Family Practice. In addition, he joined the Inter-Island Medical Center's group practice in Friday Harbor for the next seven years.

Dr. Geyman is a prolific writer, and has written several books ranging from changing health care, health insurance, and privatization. He also became the publisher of Copernicus Healthcare as well as president of the Physicians for a National Health Program. By 2010, he had earned a Wright Brothers Master Pilot Award and written two books on aviation. Four books followed in 2012; eight from 2015 to 2021. He tackled Obamacare and Trumpcare along with long-term care. He also created a series of Common Sense pamphlets as well as continuing to contribute to various journal publications, a source of writing he began in 1971.

Dr. Geyman's collection contains selected journal publications covering the following topics: family medicine and primary care, health care system and reform, rural health, and aviation-related subjects. The collection also includes his blogs and op-eds which range from 2008-2018. It consists of three published books on flying written by Dr. Geyman.

Gerald R. Gehringer, MD was born in 1926 in Kentwood, Louisiana. Following graduation from high school, he served in the US Navy from 1943-1946 as a radio radar gunman, and then returned home to attend Southeastern Louisiana University in Hammond, where he earned his BS in 1948. In 1952, he was graduated with his MD from Louisiana State University in New Orleans, and completed an internship at Charity Hospital in New Orleans from 1952-1953. Following that, Dr. Gehringer completed residencies in general practice and surgery and went into private practice as a family physician in Kentwood, Louisiana. He held many academic appointments and served as both a Residency Assistance Program (RAP) consultant and as a member of the Residency Review Committee (RRC) for Family Practice. Dr. Gehringer also held leadership positions in the Louisiana State Medical Society and was president of the Louisiana Academy of Family Physicians from 1976-1977. Dr. Gehringer served within the AAFP in many capacities, including as delegate from Louisiana; member and chairman of the Board of Directors; president-elect; president (1982-1983); and past president. He died in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, in 1995.

Dr. Gehringer's collection contains files from his papers, presentations and speeches from the period circa 1975-1984. Although many of the documents are not dated, his curriculum vita verifies the time period. Many of the presentations were on clinical topics such as angina/cardiology, arthritis, dermatology, psychiatry, and urinary tract infections. Others pertain to the history of family medicine, teaching family practice residents, and include his reports and speeches given while serving the AAFP in various roles. His collection also includes 18 slides.

J(oseph) Roy Guyther, MD was born on July 31, 1920 in Mechanicsville, Maryland. He earned his MD from the University of Maryland School of Medicine in 1943 and completed his internship and a residency in internal medicine at Mercy Hospital in Baltimore. From 1946-1948, he served in the US Army and was discharged as a captain. He entered private practice in Mechanicsville on January 1, 1948. Dr. Guyther was a strong advocate of student interest in general/family practice and founded the Medical Students' Family Practice Club at the University of Maryland. He became part-time associate professor in the University of Maryland's Department of Family Practice in 1972. He also served in a variety of leadership positions throughout his career, including as president of the Maryland Academy in 1959; as president of the Board of Medical Examiners of the State of Maryland in 1977; as a member of the ABFP Board of Directors; and as a delegate from Maryland to the AAFP Congress of Delegates for 16 years. Most notably, he was selected as the Good Housekeeping Family Doctor of the Year in 1979. The official announcement was made at the White House where Dr. Guyther was greeted by First Lady Rosalynn Carter. Dr. Guyther retired from private practice in 1990 but continued his lifelong interest in history by publishing his memoirs and several histories about Mechanicsville and the local region. He died at his home in Mechanicsville on December 18, 2013 at the age of 93.

The J. Roy Guyther, MD Collection contains files related to his practice and career, including his designation as Family Doctor of the Year of 1979, as well as articles and news releases about him and correspondence from patients and colleagues. In addition, there are files related to Project MORE, a student preceptorship program sponsored by the AAGP in the early 1960s. Also included are files related to the shortage of family doctors in Maryland and health manpower training in that state.

Haley, Alvin "Al" J., MD (1926-)

1 box – See also: Museum (Artifact) Collection; Photograph Collection; Plaques & Framed Items; and Slide Collection

Alvin J. Haley, MD, was born November 2, 1926, in Hartford City, Indiana. After high school he entered the United States Naval Reserve and served as a Seaman First Class from 1945-1946. He earned his BS in 1950 from Indiana University and his MD in 1953 from Indiana University School of Medicine. Haley then completed a rotating internship, also in Indiana, at Lutheran Hospital in Fort Wayne between 1953 and 1954. Haley opened his private practice in family medicine, his first and only practice, in Fort Wayne in 1954 and continued in this stead for twenty-six years.

Haley joined the American Medical Association (AMA) that same year and became a member of the American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP) the following year in 1955. In 1969, Haley became President of the Indiana Academy of Family Physicians (IAFP) after already serving as President of the Indiana State Medical Association (ISMA). Four years later, Haley ventured into the academic community, while maintaining his practice, serving as a Clinical Instructor of Family Medicine and an Assistant Professor of Family Medicine at his alma mater, the Indiana University School of Medicine. He served in these positions until 1980, the same year he left his practice. In 1980, Haley became the Clinical Associate Professor of Family Medicine and held this post until 1987 when he was promoted again, this time to Clinical Professor of Family Medicine. He had also been serving as the Director of Family Practice Education at Methodist Hospital since 1980; he served in this stead until 1997. Moreover, Haley found time to also serve on the AAFP Board of Directors and to act as chairman of the AAFP Commission on Education between 1982 and 1985. Haley has since retired, but holds the honorary title of Emeritus Clinical Professor of Family Medicine for the Indiana University School of Medicine.

The Alvin J. Haley, MD Collection consists of numerous documents pertaining to the AAFP Scientific Assembly in 1982; ABFP certificates for 1970, 1988, and 1995; ABFP exam reminiscences; documents pertaining to ABFP recertification (1977-1995); articles/publications containing photos of Haley; AAFP Board of Directors congratulations (1982); certificates awarded to Haley; curriculum vitae and business cards; correspondence (1979-1978, 1990); Fellowship program and article (1972); IAFP-related documents (1966-68, 1982, 1994); Guide for Residency Programs in Family Practice (1972); and the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation "Clinical Scholars Program Report" (June 1990).

Henry L. Harrell, Sr., MD was born in 1908 in Woodbury, Tennessee. He graduated from Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tennessee, with an AB in 1930 and an MD in 1934, and completed an internship at Duval County Hospital in Jacksonville, Florida. Following this, he served for two years as the medical doctor for a lumber camp near Dade City, Florida. In 1939, Dr. Harrell established a practice in Ocala, where he remained in practice until his retirement in 1984. From 1941-1945, he served in the US Army Medical Corps and was shipped to Europe in 1944. He was waiting to be shipped to the Pacific front when V-J Day occurred. Following the war, he became a charter member of the AAGP in 1947 and helped establish the Florida Academy, serving as president of the FAGP in 1957-1958 and as chairman of the First Annual FAGP Scientific Assembly. He was named an AAFP Fellow in 1972. Dr. Harrell also organized the first volunteer clinic to treat the indigent in Marion County, Florida and was a member of the original committee of seventeen that organized Blue Cross-Blue Shield in Florida. He died in 2003 in Ocala.

Dr. Harrell's collection consists of a biography from the President's Page of the Journal of the Florida Academy of General Practice while Dr. Harrell was president, an article he wrote about physician retirement, and a copy of his memoir, The Sounding Furrows (1986).

Trenton L. James, MD, was born in 1941 in Donaldsonville, Louisiana. He earned his MD from Louisiana State University in New Orleans in 1966 and completed a general practice residency at Charity Hospital System of Louisiana in 1968. In 1967, he received the Mead Johnson Award for Graduate Training in General Practice from the AAGP. From 1968-1970, he served in the U.S. Public Health Service as a Lieutenant Commander (Full Surgeon) in Alaska. When he left the service, he completed a family practice residency at Highland Hospital, University of Rochester, in 1971. He entered private practice in Baton Rouge, Louisiana in 1971. Dr. James has served since 1971 as Assistant Clinical Professor in the Department of Family Medicine at LSU Medical Center in New Orleans, and he taught in the family practice residency program at Earl K. Long Memorial Hospital from 1971-1979. He also taught in the family practice residency at Baton Rouge General Medical Center from 1993-1996. He was named a fellow of the AAFP in 1973. He served on the Louisiana AAFP Board of Directors from 1972-1982 and was Louisiana Family Doctor of the Year in 1988. Dr. James has been deeply involved in charitable and community activities throughout his career.

Dr. James' collection consists of drafts, sources, background, and planning documents for a presentation he gave at the 2006 Louisiana Academy of Family Physicians meeting. It was titled "A Band of Brothers and Sisters: The History of Family Medicine in Louisiana." Also included is a previous version of the presentation and Dr. James' curriculum vitae.

Jones, Edgar F., Jr., MD (1912-1999)

Edgar F. Jones, Jr., MD was born in 1912 in Belleville, Arkansas. He earned his MD from the University of Texas at Galveston in 1936, and later practiced in Galveston. During World War II, he served in the US Army as a medical officer. He was named a fellow of the AAFP in 1972, and died in 1999 in Austin, Texas.

Dr. Jones' collection consists of a scrapbook titled "Galveston 1957 County Medical Society." In it, there are numerous newspaper clippings, invitations and programs related to the Galveston County Medical Society. Dr. Jones was president-elect of that group in 1957. The scrapbook also documents the county medical society's efforts to provide polio immunizations for every county resident.

Kahn, Raymond M., MD (1918-2003)

1 slim document case – See also: Photograph Collection

Raymond M. Kahn, MD was born in 1918 in Dayton, Ohio and graduated with his MD degree from the St. Louis University School of Medicine. A charter member of the AAGP and STFM, he was also a founder of the Ohio Academy of Family Physicians, serving as president of the Ohio AFP from 1963-1964. An activist at both the state, local and national levels, he helped to develop the Family Practice Residency Program at Good Samaritan Hospital in Dayton, Ohio, which he directed from 1979 until his retirement in 1985. As chairman of the AAGP's Committee on Medical Economics during the 1960s he helped to develop the book The Organization and Management of Family Practice, a popular resource which was used throughout the next 20 years by family physicians as a guide to help them in constructing, equipping, designing and managing their offices. With other GP leaders in Ohio, Dr. Kahn also championed board certification, which led to the eventual establishment of the American Board of Family Practice (now ABFM) in 1969.

The Raymond M. Kahn, MD Collection is comprised of articles, pamphlets and reports relating to Dr. Kahn's career, particularly concerning his involvement with the Ohio AFP, his work to help plan the Academy's 1962 Scientific Assembly (which was the first national medical organization convention to be held in Las Vegas), and his work as a member and later as chairman of the AAGP's Committee on Medical Economics during the 1960s. In addition, the Center also holds several photographs relating to Dr. Kahn's service on this committee as part of its photograph collection.

Kessel, Kenneth F., MD (1931-)

1 box and 1 boxed set of Criteria Cards

A graduate of the University of Illinois College of Medicine in 1958, Dr. Kessel served as the first director of the MacNeal Memorial Hospital Family Practice Training (Residency) Program in Berwyn, Illinois from 1970-1987. In December of 1969, this program was the first family practice residency program in the State of Illinois to be approved by the Residency Review Committee for Family Practice (RRC-FP). Prior to his serving as director of the MacNeal Residency Program, Dr. Kessel had completed a general practice residency at MacNeal in 1960, and then established a private general practice in Brookfield, Illinois, where he served for ten years. During the 1970s he also served as a consultant for the AAFP, helping to assist other residency programs in getting started within a twelve-state area. Following his service at MacNeal, Dr. Kessel then went on to serve as the director of a geriatric fellowship at LaGrange Memorial Hospital in LaGrange, Illinois, which was the first geriatric fellowship in Illinois to be sponsored solely by a family medicine residency. Dr. Kessel is retired and lives in East Troy, Wisconsin.

The Kenneth F. Kessel, MD Collection consists of various materials documenting the history and development of the MacNeal Family Practice Residency Program, including the 12th edition of the MacNeal Family Medicine Curriculum (1987); a 1975-1976 MacNeal Residencies in Family Practice Manual; a 1981 Alcoholism Treatment Center Residency Training Manual; two volumes of the MacNeal Family Practice Syllabus (1975-1976); and several articles by Dr. Kessel dating from 1974 and 1975, as well as an article entitled “The Origin of the First Family Practice Residency in the State of Illinois.” Also included in the collection is a complete boxed set of “Criteria Cards” from the program from the period 1970-1987.

Born in 1919 in Texas, Weldon Garrett Kolb, MD graduated from the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston in 1941. After completing his internship at the John Sealy Hospital in Galveston, he established a general practice as part of the Medical & Surgical Clinic Associates in LaMarque, Texas in 1945, where he was in private practice until 1991. A charter member of the AAGP in 1947, he served as president of the Texas Academy of Family Physicians from 1972 to 1973, as a member of the AAFP Commission on Public Health and Scientific Affairs from 1976 to 1982, and as president and chairman of the Texas AFP Foundation for nine years. In 1983, he was honored by being named the Texas Family Physician of the Year by his colleagues in the Texas AFP and in 1992 the Weldon G. Kolb, MD Pavilion was named in his honor at the Mainland Center Hospital in Texas City. Dr. Kolb retired in 1991 and died in 1995 in Galveston at the age of 75.

The Weldon G. Kolb, MD Collection consists of Dr. Kolb’s correspondence files relating to his membership and service in the Texas AFP from 1951-1988; files relating to his participation in the Texas AFP Foundation from 1988-1995; newspaper and other clippings relating to his life and career; two photocopied scrapbooks with photographs covering the period 1971-1973; awards and certificates files, including files on the 1983 Texas Family Physician of the Year Award and the dedication of the Weldon G. Kolb Pavilion; files relating to travel, professional meetings, and seminars; position papers and speeches; files relating to his involvement in the Texas Medical Association, Council for Medical Education & Hospitals, ABFP and AAFP Commission on Public Health & Scientific Affairs; and a file relating to his retirement in 1991.

Kowalewski, Edward J., MD (1920-1996)

13 boxes – See also: Audiovisual Collection; Museum (Artifact) Collection; Oversized Collection; Photograph Collection; Plaques & Framed Items; and Slide Collection

Born April 21, 1920, in Mt. Carmel, Pennsylvania, Edward J. Kowalewski, MD became a household name in the field of family medicine, not only in Pennsylvania and Maryland, but also nationally and globally. He attended the Pennsylvanian colleges of Gettysburg as well as Franklin and Marshall for pre-medical training, earning his BS in 1942. Kowalewski thereafter attended George Washington University Medical School, earning his MD in 1945 and completing his residency in 1946. He was then stationed at the US Army General Hospital in Valley Forge, Pennsylvania and served his country as a US Air Force Flight Surgeon until opening up his first family practice in 1948. In 1948, Kowalewski began a 23-year span in which he was involved in three family practices: a solo family practice in Rothsville, Pennsylvania (1948-1953), as well as a two-man family practice partnership (1953-1957) and a three-man family practice partnership (1957-1971), which were both located in Akron, Pennsylvania. It was shortly after the opening of his solo practice that he joined the American Academy of Family Physicians (then the American Academy of General Practice) in 1951. Dr. Kowalewski founded and was a president of the Lancaster (PA) County Chapter before becoming the president of the Pennsylvania Academy of General Practice (1960-1961). As an active member of the AAFP, Kowalewski fulfilled numerous roles throughout the 1960's: Board of Directors Member (1964-1967) and Chairman (1966-1967), Executive Committee Member (1966-1969) and Chairman (1967), and President (1969-1970). Additionally, he served on a number of committees and commissions which broached topics such as environmental medicine and Indian health, among others. Kowalewski made a difference outside of the AAFP also, being selected by the United States Department of State to tour the Iron Curtain representing the typical family physician and winning the Medical Tribune Auto Safety Award in 1968 after being responsible for a national law requiring medial strip barriers on all major U.S. highways. Shortly after his stint as president of the AAFP, Kowalewski began teaching at the University of Maryland School of Medicine, serving as a Professor and Chairman for the Department of Family Practice until his retirement. During this period, he also became the first American president of the World Organization of National Colleges, Academies and Academic Associations of General Practice/Family Physicians (WONCA).

The Edward J. Kowalewski, MD Collection contains an extensive amount of AAGP material including his Executive Committee Files, President and Past President files, speeches and reports during his time as AAFP President (1969-1970), Special Presidential Committee File (1970), and general meeting files (1967-1969). There are also collections of his work in other associations such as the Pennsylvania Academy of General Practice (PAGP) meeting files, American Board of Family Practice (ABFP) files, the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission Files, and the Family Health Foundation Files. Furthermore, there exist collections of a more personal nature such as his published articles (1945-1980), his correspondence (1964-1971), retirement scrapbook (1990), and clippings and articles relating to him (1960-1980). The collection also contains his Congressional Testimony Files and a special collection of the Cahal, Yarborough, Rooney and Murphy Bill Files.

Arthur Lee “Lud” Ludwick, Jr., MD, was born in 1913 in Kansas City, Missouri. He was the son of Arthur L. Ludwick, Sr., MD, who was also a GP. After graduating in 1936 with his MD degree from the University of Kansas, he interned at Ancker Hospital in St. Paul, Minnesota and then completed a year of surgical residency at the famous Hertzler Clinic in Halstead, Kansas. From 1938-1941, Dr. Ludwick practiced as a GP in Waterloo, Iowa, and there met his future wife, Jean Hoyer. During World War II, Dr. Ludwick served as a medical officer with the 34th Infantry Division, and saw extensive action in North Africa and Italy, earning the Silver Star for gallantry in action, as well as a Purple Heart. After serving overseas for 28 months, he was rotated back to the U.S. in April of 1944 and honorably discharged from active duty in 1946 with the rank of major, United States Army. In October 1945, Dr. Ludwick and his wife settled in Wenatchee, Washington, where he practiced family medicine, including obstetrics and surgery, for 51 years, until retiring in 1988. An early partner and mentor of Dr. Robert W. Higgins (AAFP president in 1984-1985), he was a charter diplomate of the ABFP (now ABFM) in 1970 and became a fellow of the AAFP in 1977. As an active member of various state and local medical associations throughout his career, he served as president of the Washington Academy of General Practice from 1960-1961, and was vice president of the Washington State Medical Association in 1962.

The Arthur L. Ludwick, Jr., MD Collection consists of photocopied correspondence from Dr. Ludwick between the years 1956-1961, as well as various family and genealogy records (particularly photocopied biographical information and materials relating to the World War I military service and medical career of his father, Arthur L. Ludwick, Sr.); local newspaper articles, obituaries and photocopied extracts from local histories; AAGP/AAFP membership records from 1949 to 2006 and extracted materials on Dr. Ludwick from Academy publications; photocopied extracted material from ABFP/ABFM records relating to his Charter Diplomate status (1970-1987); original notes, notebooks, and photocopies of his records from medical school, and his internship and residency service; a photocopied journal relating to his practice of medicine from circa 1936-1953; notebooks kept by Dr. Ludwick relating to his Continuing Medical Education (CME) activities from circa 1946-1996; photocopies of his medical licensure records from Kansas and Washington State; and Who's Who entries from 1974-1981. In addition, the collection also contains extensive materials relating to his military service, including correspondence, notebooks, oral histories, and published unit histories. The CHFM's Museum Collection contains several items from Dr. Ludwick's medical practice, including awards and certificates, two fully stocked medical bags, pill cases, stethoscopes in bags, a blood pressure cuff in its original box, his microscope, a pocket wallet used by Dr. Ludwick, and his lab coat.

Dr. Miller also completed a PhD in Philosophy from the University of Missouri. His first position after completing his graduate work was as an Associate Professor of Anatomy at Bowman Gray School of Medicine, part of Wake Forest University. While a professor from 1938-1944, Miller received training in the medical field, earning his MD in 1946. Following that, he completed a one-year rotating internship at Hamot Hospital in Erie, Pennsylvania. Dr. Miller also served in the Korean War, being called up in 1953, and as a Captain in the Air Force until 1955. In 1948, he began his private practice in Erie and maintained it until 1971. Miller also found time, despite serving in the Air Force and maintaining his private practice, to be an active staff member at Hamot Hospital where he completed his internship. After nineteen years on the staff, he was elected President of the Hamot Hospital Medical and Dental Staff in 1969. From 1970-1978 he served as coordinator of Ambulatory Care Services. However, Dr. Miller was known first and foremost for his efforts in opening Hamot's Family Practice Residency Program, of which he was the Director from its founding in 1974 until 1980. From 1980 until his retirement in 1993 he served as a clinical professor on the family practice teaching faculty. In 1993, the Family Medicine Center at Hamot was renamed the Roland E. Miller MD Family Medicine Center and a foundation was created in his name. Sadly, Hamot Medical Center withdrew support from the residency and it closed in June 2004. Dr. Miller was also a longtime member of the American Academy of Family Physicians and the American Medical Association.

The Roland E. Miller, MD Collection includes several newspaper clippings about Dr. Miller, a 1929 Hamot Hospital Association Annual Report, some correspondence, a 1969 issue of Hamot Happenings. There are also numerous medical instruments and artifacts in his collection, including a microscope, doctor's bag, tonometers, syringes, and a stereoscope. The library items in this collection include a 1977 edition of Rakel's Principles of Family Medicine, a very fragile 1888 edition of Dr. Chase's Third, Last and Complete Receipt Book and Household Physician, or Practical Knowledge for the People, and several volumes of The CIBA Collection of Medical Illustrations.

Moquist, Dale, C., MD (1947)

1 leather scrapbook

Dale Moquist received his Bachelor in Science from the University of North Dakota, his medical degree from the University of Texas at Dallas, and completed his residency at the University of Minnesota Family Practice Residency Program. He moved to Texas after a long career in North Dakota, during which he was active in the North Dakota Academy of Family of Physicians and served on the AAFP Board of Directors. Dr. Miller served as the Alternate Delegate for the AAFP to the American Medical Association (AMA) from 1997-1998 before going on to service as the Delegate between 1998-2010.

The Dale Moquist consists of one scrapbook on Dr. Moquist's time serving as the chair of the AAFP Delegation to the American Medical Association from 1997-2010.

After graduation from Harvard University and the University of Chicago Medical School (1968), Fitzhugh Mullan, MD, completed an internship at Jacobi and Lincoln Hospital in the Bronx, New York. His career has included serving as Director of the National Health Service Corps; Scholar-in-Residence at the Institute of Medicine; senior medical officer at the National Institutes of Health; Director of the Bureau of Health Professions; and as Assistant Surgeon General (Rear Admiral) from 1991-1996. In 1996, Dr. Mullan joined the staff of Health Affairs, where he has edited the popular column "Narrative Matters." He is the Murdock Head Professor of Medicine and Health Policy, Professor of Pediatrics, and Co-Director of the George Washington University Health Workforce Institute. Dr. Mullan is the author of several well-known works on the US health care system, including Big Doctoring in America: Profiles in Primary Care (2002); Plagues and Politics: The Story of the United States Public Health Service (1989); Vital Signs: A Young Physician's Struggle with Cancer (1983); and White Coat, Clenched Fist: The Political Education of an American Physician (1976).

The Fitzhugh Mullan, MD, Collection contains a series of transcribed oral histories conducted in the 1990s by Dr. Mullan in cooperation with the People-to-People Health Foundation as part of an oral history on generalist medical practice in the United States. These oral histories were photocopied and donated to the CHFM from the Primary Care Physicians Interview Collection at the National Library of Medicine (NLM) with the permission of Dr. Mullan. Nixon, Sam A., Jr., MD (1927-2003)

1 box – See also: Artifact Collection, Audiovisual Collection, and Photograph Collection

Sam A. Nixon, MD was born in 1927 in Galveston, Texas to Sam A. Nixon, Sr. and Margaret Sandel Nixon. Nixon graduated from Abilene High School at the age of sixteen and from Texas A&M with his Bachelor's Degree in 1946, at age nineteen. By twenty-three he had earned his MD from the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston. He then completed a rotating internship at Fordham Hospital in New York City. Nixon served in the US Army Medical Corps for four years from 1950 to 1954 as a battalion surgeon in Korea and as an artillery surgeon in both Korea and Japan. He joined the AAGP in 1955 and the next twenty-three years of his life were devoted to family medicine; he worked as a family physician in both Nixon and Floresville, Texas. During this period he was involved in the Gonzales County Medical Society as president in 1957 and secretary from 1962-1977. He also contributed greatly to the Texas Medical Association (TMA) as 5th District President in 1968 and as an alternate delegate and delegate to the American Medical Association (AMA) from 1969 to 1977. Moreover, Nixon served as the vice-president (1965-1966), president of the Alamo chapter (1967), and president (1968-1969) of the Texas Academy of Family Physicians (TAFP). He also received his first teaching position in 1972 as a clinical professor in the Department of Family Practice at the University of Texas Medical School. In 1977, Nixon chose to relocate, leaving his private practice and clinical professorship behind, and join the University of Texas Medical School at Houston as a professor in the Department of Family Practice and Community Medicine. In 1979 he was president-elect of the AAFP and served as president the following year. Nixon held the post of Director of Continuing Education at the University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston (UTHSCH) from 1977 to 1992, at which time he also retired from teaching. He was also the assistant dean for continuing education from 1985 to 1992. Nixon also served as president of the Texas Medical Association in 1991 and he received the Distinguished Service Award, their highest honor, in 1999. In 2002, one year before his death, the TAFP honored him with the first Lifetime Achievement Award for service to the specialty of family medicine.

The Sam A. Nixon, MD Collection contains a few receipts for services rendered by Dr. Nixon and two short articles in which Nixon explains his academic titles and how a "country doctor" like himself found his way to Houston. There is also a large binder and one file pertaining to a one week seminar presented by the Menninger Foundation in Topeka, Kansas on Psychiatry for General Practitioners. This binder contains information provided by the Menninger Foundation, some articles on the topic by doctors, and even some handwritten notes. There is also one file on Nixon's membership in the Society of Teachers of Family Medicine (STFM). For more information about Dr. Nixon, there are 125 cubic feet of his materials housed at the John P.

Ohmart, Richard V., MD (1936-)

1 box – See also: Audiovisual Collection; Library Collection; Photograph Collection

Richard V. “Dick” Ohmart, MD was born in McPherson, Kansas in 1936. After spending time in various Kansas towns, he spent his junior and senior high school years in Scott City, Kansas. His neighbor, Galen Fields, MD, who became KAFP president in 1964, played a part in Dr. Ohmart’s choice of career, both in medicine and in family practice. A 1958 honors graduate with a BA in English and Chemistry from the University of Kansas, Dr. Ohmart received his MD degree from the University of Kansas in 1962. After completing his internship at the Wesley Medical Center in Wichita, in 1963 he joined a private medical practice in rural Oakley, Kansas. There he served as a practicing family physician for more than 38 years, for much of that time as the only physician in the local area. He was a member of the American Academy of Family Physicians and was elected as a Fellow of the AAFP in 1974. Dr. Ohmart founded a rural health clinic and served as Medical Director of New Frontiers Health Services in Oakley from 1992-2001. He also served as Director of Medical Education of the Northwest Region for the University of Kansas School of Medicine from 1996 until his retirement in 2001. Dr. Ohmart is retired and lives with his wife Carol. The couple continues to live in Oakley, while spending their winters in Texas.

Throughout his career, Dr. Ohmart was actively involved in family medicine education and served as a preceptor for KU School of Medicine students, as well as a preceptor for physician assistant students from The Wichita State University. He has received numerous awards for his work, including the first Dean’s Hero in Medicine Award from KU School of Medicine in 1999; the National Rural Health Association (NRHA) Rural Practitioner of the Year Award in 1999; and Kansas Academy of Family Physicians Family Physician of the Year Award in 2000. In January 2001, Dr. Ohmart slipped on the ice, striking his head, which resulted in a subdural hematoma. He subsequently suffered a severe stroke, and after spending more than seven months recovering in hospital, was eventually released and forced to retire from his practice. A prolific writer, Dr. Ohmart has written widely on his experiences as a rural practitioner and is the author of numerous articles and essays, as well as two books: When I Died, An Amazing Adventure, published in 2002 and The Education of an Old Doc, The Story of My Practice in the Wilderness, published in 2010. The first of those books tells the story of Dr. Ohmart’s stroke and partial recovery, and was written in cooperation with his wife Carol, as Dr. Ohmart had no recollections of the early months after his stroke.

The Richard V. Ohmart, MD Collection includes a collection of Dr. Ohmart’s articles and essays, as well as materials relating to his various awards and honors. Also included is a copy of Dr. Ohmart’s c.v. (as of October 31, 2016); a bibliography of his published works (as of November 1, 2016); a copy of his 2002 book When I Died, An Amazing Adventure; and a CD containing a collection of his published and unpublished works.

Osborne, Charles E., EdD (c. 1930-)

1 slim document case

Dr. Osborne was assistant dean for Continuing Medical Education and professor, Department of Medical Education at Southern Illinois University School of Medicine in Springfield, Illinois. He researched and published articles on a variety of topics relating to health-related topics, including the impact of continuing medical education and the evaluation of clinical competence.

Dr. Osborne's collection consists of an Award of Merit from the AAFP to Dr. Osborne "For his significant contribution as Project Director of the Joint Committee on Quality Assurance in its development of methodology for the evaluation of ambulatory child health care."

Ostergaard, Daniel J., MD (1947-)

Born in 1947 in Fergus Falls, Minnesota, Dr. Ostergaard received a BA degree in natural sciences and psychology from the University of North Dakota in 1969, and earned an MD degree from the University of Texas Southwestern School of Medicine in Dallas in 1973. In addition to clinical practice as a medical officer with the United States Public Health Service in New Mexico, Dr. Ostergaard also served as director of the Family Medicine Residency in Duluth and was a faculty member of the University of Minnesota School of Medicine. From 1983 to 1999, he served as AAFP vice president for Education and Scientific Activities, and from 1999 to 2008 served as AAFP vice president for International and Interprofessional Activities. In 2008, Dr. Ostergaard became AAFP vice president for Professional Activities, and in 2011 was named vice president for Health of the Public and Interprofessional Activities. As vice president for Health of the Public and Interprofessional Activities, Dr. Ostergaard had oversight responsibilities for the public health, scientific and research activities of the AAFP as well as the AAFP's relationships with other medical organizations in the United States and abroad. Dr. Ostergaard is a member of the World Organization of Family Doctors (WONCA) Executive Committee by virtue of his position as chair of its Bylaws Committee. In 1998, he was awarded honorary life membership in WONCA. Among his awards are the 2000 Gabriel Smilkstein Memorial Award of the Society of Teachers of Family Medicine for outstanding contributions to the growth and development of Family Medicine education throughout the world, the 2001 AAFP Humanitarian Award honoring his extraordinary and enduring humanitarian efforts both within and beyond the borders of the United States, and an honorary membership in the College of Family Physicians of Canada in 2012. In December 2012 Dr. Ostergaard retired as AAFP vice president for Health of the Public and Interprofessional Activities, after 33 years of service to the Academy.

The Daniel J. Ostergaard, MD Collection consists of correspondence, files, meeting programs, publications and speeches primarily pertaining to his service as AAFP vice president for Education and Scientific Activities from 1983 to 1994, and as a member of WONCA during this same period.

Born in 1934 in Detroit, Theodore J. Phillips, MD received his undergraduate degree from Swarthmore College in Swarthmore, Pennsylvania in 1955 and his MD from Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine in 1959. After serving with the US Public Health Service in Alaska, he went into private general practice and practiced in rural areas of Colorado and Alaska before coming to New York State in 1969. There, he went into the Family Medicine Program at the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Highland Hospital as assistant professor of Medicine and coordinator of the Family Medicine Residency Program. In 1970, he came to the University of Washington, and there helped build the university's first Department of Family Medicine, serving as its founding chair. He also served as an associate and later acting dean of the University's School of Medicine. In 1988, he returned to clinical practice part-time in Anacortes, Washington, while continuing to teach at the university. An active member of several family medicine organizations, Dr. Phillips served as president of the Society of Teachers of Family Medicine (STFM) from 1978 to 1979 and received the Society's Certificate of Excellence Award in 1981. In 1991, Dr. Phillips was appointed as a member of the Agency for Health Care Policy and Research (AHCPR) National Advisory Council for Health Care Policy, Research and Evaluation. He retired in May of 1994.

The Theodore J. Phillips, MD Collection consists of a collection of Dr. Phillips' published articles from 1969 to 1995, including a copy of his March 1988 manuscript of "Family Medicine: Twenty-Five Years of University of Washington History" and a draft of the Blanchard Memorial Lecture he delivered at the STFM meeting in New Orleans, Louisiana on May 7, 1995 entitled "Community, the Defining Basis of Family Practice: Opportunities for Nurturing our Communities Today." In addition, the collection also includes a Memory Book from Dr. Phillips' STFM Presidential Year (1978-1979), as well as a copy of a transcript of a Panel Discussion of "Wives of STFM Founders" at STFM's 25th Anniversary Meeting in St. Louis, MO in May 1992.

Pisacano, Nicholas J., MD (1924-1990)

1 slim document case – See also: Audiovisual Collection and Photograph Collection

Nicholas J. Pisacano, MD, was born on June 6, 1924 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, but was raised five miles away in Merchantville, New Jersey. Pisacano began his education in 1941 at Western Maryland College but was interrupted a year later by World War II. He served in the United States Army during the war from 1942 to 1946. Between 1946 and 1947 Pisacano finished his BA and continued on to medical school at Hahnemann Medical College in Philadelphia. After four years of training, Pisacano earned his MD in 1951 and completed his internship and residency at Stamford Hospital in Connecticut between 1951 and 1953. He opened a rural practice straight out of residency in South Royalton, Vermont; he operated this practice until 1955. Between 1955 and 1962, he maintained a city practice in Philadelphia. He then decided to enter the academic scene at the University of Kentucky (UK), first as the Director of Continuing Medical Education (1962-1968) and then as Assistant Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences (1966-1972). During his initial time in Lexington, Dr. Pisacano also became the founding secretary of the American Board of Family Practice (ABFP), established in 1969, which established family practice as an official specialty, the 20th overall. He remained the Executive Director and Secretary for the first twenty years of the board and as an Associate Professor at UK until his untimely death in 1990. In 2005, the ABFP was renamed the American Board of Family Medicine (ABFM). Dr. Pisacano was also a member of the Kentucky Medical Association, Southern Medical Association, American Medical Association, and American Academy of Family Physicians. He also received the Thomas W. Johnson Award in 1977 for excellence in medical education.

The Nicholas J. Pisacano, MD Collection consists of a booklet of remembrance for the establishment of the Nicholas J. Pisacano Endowed Chair in Family Practice at the University of Kentucky, numerous photocopied speeches and publications of Dr. Pisacano's, and a few photocopied newspaper articles pertaining to him. The original of the copied items are held by the American Board of Family Medicine in Lexington, Kentucky.

S. Perry Post MD was born February 24, 1915, in San Antonio, Texas, where he would spend most of his life. He attended St. Mary's University for his undergraduate training, and earned his MD from the University of Texas Medical Branch (UTMB) in Galveston in 1938. During World War II, Post served in the Army Medical Corps for a five year period, 1941 to 1946, ascending as high as the rank of Major. Prior to his military service, Post practiced family medicine for a period in Boerne, Texas and returned to family practice, serving the Jefferson area of San Antonio, after the war. Post was a charter member of the AAGP in 1948 and served as president of the Alamo Chapter of the AAGP in 1953. Post was twice named the Physician of the Year by the Alamo Chapter of the Texas Academy of Family Physicians (TAFP). Soon, however, he turned his focus to other endeavors in family medicine. In 1972, Post was elected President of the Bexar County Medical Society and one year later he joined the faculty of the University of Texas Health Science Center of San Antonio. There he served as a professor in the Department of Family Practice and as Director of the Student Health Center. He was named an AAFP Fellow in 1973. In 1984, Dr. Post retired but remained active in medicine working as Clinic Director for family planning clinics on the south and east sides of San Antonio until 1998. The TAFP awarded Post with the title "physician emeritus" in 1994. He was the last living charter member of the TAFP when he died in 2007. The Texas Academy has established the S. Perry Post, MD, Medical Student Scholarship Fund in his honor.

The S. Perry Post, MD collection consists his original AAGP membership certificate (issued May 1, 1948), and his Century Club certificate from 1950. Post also donated similar items on behalf of Academy member Terry S. Vincent, MD, which are part of this collection. One notable file pertains to the organization of the Family Practice Student Association at the University of Texas Medical School in San Antonio in 1971. The collection also contains files and photos related to the Texas chapter's program called "Physician of the Day" for the Texas Legislature. Also included are items from the early years of both the AAGP and TAGP, including medical study report forms, membership directories, constitution and bylaws, banquet programs, and some early issues of Texas chapter newsletters. These include materials from the Alamo Chapter of the Texas AGP and the Bexar County (TX) Academy of General Practice.

Born in Brush, Colorado in 1926, James Gordon Price, MD received his BA degree in 1948 and his MD in 1951, both from the University of Colorado. After completing an internship at the Denver General Hospital in 1952, Dr. Price returned to Brush, where he established a general practice which served the local community from 1952 to 1978. In 1978, Dr. Price moved to Kansas, where he served as a professor of family practice at the University of Kansas Medical Center from 1978 to 1993, and also as chairman of the Department of Family Practice from 1982 to 1990, and as dean of the University of Kansas School of Medicine from 1990 to 1993. From 1973 to 1990, Dr. Price also authored a nationally syndicated newspaper column entitled "Your Family Physician." In addition to his professional positions, Dr. Price was also an active leader in several family medicine organizations. In 1964, he served as president of the Colorado Academy of Family Physicians, and then on the national level, served as vice-speaker (1967-1968) and Speaker (1969-1972) of the Academy's House of Delegates, and as president of the AAFP from 1973 to 1974. From 1979 to 1980, he also served as president of the ABFP (now ABFM). In 1988, the Academy honored Dr. Price by presenting him with the Thomas W. Johnson Award for Outstanding Contributions to Family Practice Education. Dr. Price died on October 17, 2009 at the age of 83.

The James G. Price, MD Collection is comprised of a collection of Dr. Price's writings and speeches, including a manuscript and copies of his small book A Manual For Presiding Officers at Annual Business Meetings, written c. 1973; a copy of a statement made before the FDA Cardio-Renal Advisory Committee on May 11, 1976; and galley proofs, clippings, typewritten carbons, word-processed versions and a handwritten version of his "Your Family Physician" newspaper column, together with correspondence relating to its syndication. Also included in the collection is a photocopied scrapbook from the Colorado AFP to Dr. Price commemorating his term as AAFP president.

Pruessner, Harold T., MD (1925-2007)

On February 10, 1925, Harold T. Pruessner, MD, a lifelong Texas native, was born in San Antonio, Texas. He received his undergraduate training from Texas A&M and his medical training from the University of Texas Medical Branch (UTMB) at Galveston. As a medical student at UTMB, Pruessner, along with a few of his peers, responded to the Texas City disaster in which 581 people were killed in an ammonium nitrate explosion. The event was hectic and the injured spoke mostly French, making the situation as frustrating as it was dangerous. In a 1998 letter to Stanley L. Gilbert MD, Dr. Pruessner called it “a real life learning process.” A year after that incident, in 1948, Pruessner graduated from UTMB and went to work for the San Antonio State Mental Hospital. Following that he entered Philadelphia General Hospital (PGH) on a two-year internship. It was at PGH that Dr. Pruessner met his to-be wife Alma Morgan, R.N. He also joined the Navy while at PGH, and was assigned to the US Naval hospital at St. Albans in New York. His stay was short, however, as he was soon shipped to Korea where he became the medical officer on the Gen. C.C. Ballou transport ship. Dr. Pruessner spent most of his time in the Navy traveling back and forth across the Pacific Ocean on ships transporting soldiers to and from Korea. After eighteen months of this type of work, he was stationed in Corpus Christi, Texas where he would practice family medicine and surgery for the next twenty years; he was initially in solo practice, but afterward joined Bud Holt in creating a joint practice. It was during this period that Dr. Pruessner joined the AAFP (then AAGP) in 1956. In 1973, Dr. Pruessner joined the University of Texas Medical School at Houston (UTMS-H) as a professor, and aided in the formulation of their family practice residency program. He also served as the third Chairman of the Department of Family Practice and Community Medicine (FPCM). Dr. Pruessner retired in December of 1994 and resided in Caldwell, Texas until his death in 2007.

The collection of Harold T. Pruessner, MD is rather extensive, consisting of eight boxes of material. The initial box contains original copies of the AMA News from 1965-1975 as well as a large two volume TAFP “Family Medicine for the 90’s” booklet. There is also a miscellaneous files box covering 1965 to 1998 with a short overview of his life, information on the UTMS-H rotation course, his curriculum vitae, and several files containing data on research, projects, case histories/lectures and seminars on various subjects. Furthermore, there are three boxes containing miscellaneous correspondence and articles; one covering 1960 to 1969 and two covering the 1970 to 1995 period. The fourth and final miscellaneous box covers correspondence, papers, and journal articles from 1970 to 1979. There is also a box of photocopied medical articles spanning a forty-two-year period between 1949 and 1991. There is also one box covering articles, brochures, manuscripts, and papers composed by Dr. Pruessner from 1965 to 1992.

Thomas E. Rardin, MD, was born in 1907 in Ohio and received his medical training from Ohio State University College of Medicine. He remained in Columbus, Upper Arlington to be exact, running a family practice for the next forty-one years (1930-1971). In the late 1930s, as a member of the Clinical Faculty of the Ohio State Department of Internal Medicine, Rardin established the first menopausal clinic in the country. He also created a Department of Audiovisual Education at the university early in his career while serving as an assistant professor. Rardin then served in the military during World War II and he again displayed his eye for organization by establishing the United States Field Service School which trained thousands of medical teams used throughout the Pacific Theater of War. For his efforts Dr. Rardin was given the Presidential Citation and the Legion of Merit awards. After his military service Dr. Rardin became involved in organizing on a much larger scale as a charter member of both the American Academy of General Practice (AAGP) and the Ohio Academy of General Practice (OAGP). In 1949 he served as the first Chairman of the Scientific Assembly and later as president of the OAGP. Furthermore, from 1947 to 1969, Rardin was a member of the Ohio State Medical Association (OSMA) Committee on Education, serving as chairman for eleven of those years. Dr. Rardin was also essential in the formulation of a general practice specialty board for the inclusion of general practice as a medical specialty, writing the OAGP's resolution to the AAGP in 1964. During this period Dr. Rardin managed to be a professor as well as public speaker, traveling across the country to communicate the need for the twentieth medical specialty. Somewhere in between speaking and teaching, Rardin also found time to write six acceptable articles for the Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA), which is notorious for its strict standards on selecting articles for publication. He was presented the Distinguished Service Citation of the OSMA in 1969 and was also presented with an Alumni Achievement Award from OSU the following year. Dr. Rardin also belonged to the Royal College of General Practitioners of Great Britain, which was unheard of among American family physicians. His accomplishments are only amplified by the "personal health catastrophes" that afflicted him constantly and cut his life short. He died in 1972 at the age of sixty-five. In 1993, Ohio State University named one of their medical center branches The OSU Thomas E. Rardin Family Practice Center.

The Thomas E. Rardin, MD Collection consists of one slim document case. The materials were donated by Tennyson Williams, MD. The collection contains copies of numerous letters to and from Dr. Rardin as well as several published articles of his including some presented to JAMA. There are also other writings such as Rardin remarks in support of the OAGP resolution for a specialty board and why such a board was so needed. A few files contain information on the Ohio AGP through supplemental bulletins, GP News (which contains articles of other GPs), and other conference materials. There is also a typed speech tribute to Dr. Rardin in 1970 and typed speech given by Dr. Williams at the opening of the OSU Rardin Center in 1993.

John H. Renner, MD was born in 1932 in Newtown, Indiana, and grew up in Auburn, Indiana. He attended medical school at George Washington University in Washington, DC, earning his MD in 1958. He completed an internship and fellowship at George Washington University Hospital in 1959-1960, then entered the private general practice of medicine in Virginia until 1970, when he moved to Madison, Wisconsin, to help found the Department of Family Medicine and Practice at the University of Wisconsin Medical School. He served as the department's chairman and professor. In 1980, he moved to Missouri to establish the family practice residency program at St. Mary's Hospital in Kansas City. At the time of his death, he was a clinical professor at the University of Missouri-Kansas City Medical School, president of the National Council for Reliable Health Information, and Chief Medical Officer of HealthScout.com, an Internet health information service. He was involved in many different consulting activities, especially related to health fraud. He hosted a radio program in Kansas City, wrote a column for The Kansas City Star, and opened the Consumer Health Information Research Institute (CHIRI) in Kansas City out of his concern for exposing medical quackery and fraud. He also served on several editorial boards and held positions in numerous professional organizations. He joined the AAFP in 1960, the STFM in 1971, and became an ABFP diplomate in 1972. He died in 2000 in Kansas City, Missouri, following emergency heart surgery.

His collection contains files from some of his papers and presentations, including his special interests in accurate health information for consumers and patient education. Also included are several reports from Residency Assistance Program (RAP) consultations he conducted in the early-to-mid 1980s. Several files are from a patient education library that he established at the Sisters of St. Mary Family Medicine Center in Kansas City. One significant file contains flyers and announcements for a workshop on Patient Education in the Primary Care Setting, held in Madison, Wisconsin in April 1977. This workshop evolved into the Conference on Patient Education (now Conference on Practice Improvement) that has been coordinated jointly by the AAFP and STFM since 1986.

Ritt, Albert E., MD (1908-1997)

1 slim document case – See also: Audiovisual Collection and Photograph Collection

Born in Gladstone, North Dakota in 1908, Albert E. Ritt, MD graduated from the University of Minnesota Medical School in 1932. Following graduation, he interned at St. Mary's Catholic Hospital in Minneapolis, and then went into private general practice in St. Paul. In 1946, Dr. Ritt became active in organizing the Ramsey County Chapter of General Practitioners, and became the group's first president in 1947. In this position, he played a key role in helping to organize the Minnesota AGP, serving as the chapter's secretary for 5 years and as president in 1951. On the national level, he served as a member of the AAGP's first Congress of Delegates, as a member of the AAGP's Commission on Membership and Credentials, as treasurer of the AAGP, and from 1963 to 1964 was AAGP president. Although forced to retire from medicine in 1965 due to illness, he continued in a second successful career as a director of three St. Paul banks and president of an insurance agency until 1973. Dr. Ritt died in St. Paul in 1997 at the age of 89.

The Albert E. Ritt, MD Collection consists of newspaper and magazine articles, programs, pamphlets and reports which are primarily concerned with Dr. Ritt's service on the Academy Board and his term as AAFP President, as well as material relating to his medical career as a whole.

Rogers, John C., MD, MPH, MEd (1949-)

A 1975 graduate of the University of Iowa College of Medicine, Dr. Rogers completed a family medicine residency at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He also completed a residency in preventive medicine at the University of Washington, Seattle, where he earned a master's degree in public health in 1980 and became a Robert Wood Johnson Faculty Development Research Fellow, and in 2005 received his MEd in Administration and Supervision in Higher Education from the University of Houston. From 2007 to 2008, Dr. Rogers served as president of the Society of Teachers of Family Medicine (STFM), where he co-chaired its group on the patient-centered medical home, and he has also written extensively on the development and redesign of primary care training programs at the predoctoral and residency levels. Now a professor of family medicine at Oregon Health & Science University, Dr. Rogers formerly served as associate professor and professor in the Department of Family and Community Medicine at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston, Texas from 1987 to 2014.

The John C. Rogers, MD, MPH, MEd Collection consists of three notebooks kept by Dr. Rogers during his time as STFM president in 2007-2008 (1 volume), and as interim chair of the Department of Family & Community Medicine at Baylor College of Medicine (2 volumes), which covers the time period from December 1, 2008 through October 5, 2010. Also included as part of the notebook kept by Dr. Rogers as STFM President is an autograph book containing autographs of STFM and Family Medicine leaders, which is kept in a back pocket in the rear cover of this notebook.

Rutland, Richard O., Jr., MD (1926-)

1 slim document case

Born in 1926, Dr. Rutland attended both the University of Alabama and Duke University as an undergraduate, and graduated from the Tulane University School of Medicine in New Orleans in 1949. Following completion of his internship in Birmingham, Alabama, he undertook residency training in California and Colorado, and then returned to Alabama to establish the McNease-Hodo Clinic in rural Fayette. While practicing in Fayette, he established a rural preceptorship site for the University of Alabama School of Medicine in Birmingham and later for the College of Community Health Sciences in Tuscaloosa. In 1981, his work was recognized nationally when he was named the 1981 Good Housekeeping Family Doctor of the Year. A diplomate of the ABFP and a Fellow and a life member of the AAFP, Dr. Rutland has continued to practice in Alabama.

Dr. Rutland's collection consists of newspaper and magazine articles and several photographs relating to his being awarded the 1981 Family Doctor of the Year Award. In addition, the collection also holds 1 photocopied clipping book which was compiled in November 1981 concerning Dr. Rutland as "Family Doctor of the Year," and a second photocopied scrapbook compiled by his office staff entitled "Dr. Rutland 1957-1997: From Patients-Compiled by Brenda & Sally."

Rafael C. Sanchez, MD was born July 18, 1919, in Tampa, Florida. He obtained premedical training from Loyola University in Louisiana and medical training from Louisiana State University School of Medicine, earning his MD in 1950. Sanchez remained in Louisiana for his internship at the US Marine Hospital in New Orleans. He served an extended period in the Army, eleven years, first in the US Army between 1940 and 1946 and as Director of Convalescent Reconditioning Program from 1943 to 1946. From 1946 to 1950 Sanchez served in the AUS Medical Administrative Corps as a Reserve Major and from 1950 to 1951 as an assistant surgeon in the US Public Health Service. He first joined the AAGP and Louisiana Academy of General Practice (LAGP) in 1955, and also belonged to the American Medical Association (AMA) and Louisiana State Medical Society (LSMS). In 1951, Sanchez went to work for Mercy Hospital under the title of Senior Attending Staff and held that position until 1970. That year he left for East Jefferson General Hospital where he served under the same post until 1973. Sanchez then entered the academic world at LSU School of Medicine where he held numerous positions simultaneously: Director of Division of Continuing Medical Education, Director of Division of Family Medicine, Director of Development in Educational Renewal, Associate Dean for Continuing Medical Education, and Professor of Medicine. While at LSU, Sanchez created a model for the continuing education program and developed a family practice preceptorship. By 1978 he had relocated to Bogalusa, Louisiana to serve as the director of LSU's family practice residency program. That same year he also served as the President of LAFP and was awarded the Thomas W. Johnson Award for outstanding contributions to family practice education. During 1978 he was also serving his third of four years as Director of the American Board of Family Practice (1976-1979.) Over the next decade Sanchez worked in both Kentucky and North Carolina holding various positions related to medical education: council chairman for the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education between 1983 and 1984 (KY), chairman of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education Accreditation Review Committee in 1987 (NC), Associate Executive Director of the ABFP (KY) and professor at Brody School of Medicine (BSOM) on the campus of East Carolina University (ECU). In 1993, Sanchez became the Medical Director of the Network of Continuing Medical Education, a position he held until 2005. He died in 2008.

The Rafael C. Sanchez, MD Collection includes newspaper and magazine articles by or about Dr. Sanchez; brochures and programs from meetings and conferences; materials about RAP consultations that Sanchez conducted; articles regarding his time at East Carolina University; awards and honors Sanchez received; materials pertaining to the history and anniversaries of the ABFP; and some rare books and publications that were part of Dr. Sanchez's personal collection (a special interest of his). He donated photographs of the organizational meeting of STFM and the first meeting of the STFM Constitutional Committee. Two notable items in the collection: (1) A report on Preferences of Physicians Regarding Postgraduate Medical Education, Louisiana, May-June 1964 (a contract done for HEW); and (2) A letter from a male patient in 1967 to Sanchez, thanking him for his conduct during the patient's selective service qualification exam. This file also includes Sanchez's reply to the patient.

Scherger, Joseph E., MD, MPH (1950-)

1 box and 1 volume – See also: Audiovisual Collection

Joseph E. Scherger, MD, MPH, was born in 1950 in Delphos, Ohio. After earning a BS degree summa cum laude in 1971 from the University of Dayton in Ohio, he earned his MD at the UCLA School of Medicine in 1975. In 1978, he completed a family practice residency and earned his Master of Public Health degree from the University of Washington. From 1978-1980, he served in the National Health Service Corps in Dixon, California, as a migrant health physician before starting his private practice in Dixon. From 1981-1992, Scherger divided his time between private practice there and teaching medical students and residents at the University of California, Davis. During the period 1988-1991, he was a Fellow in the Kellogg National Fellowship Program. From 1992-1996, he was Vice President for Family Practice and Primary Care Education at Sharp HealthCare in San Diego. From 1996-2001, he was the Chair of the Department of Family Medicine and the Associate Dean for Primary Care at the University of California, Irvine College of Medicine. From 2001-2003, Scherger served as founding Dean of the Florida State University College of Medicine. From 2003-2005, he was Senior Vice President for Medical Affairs for Safe Med, Inc. From 2006-2010, he served as Consulting Medical Director for Quality and Informatics at Lumetra Healthcare Solutions. He is currently Vice President, Primary Care and Academic Affairs at Eisenhower Medical Center in Rancho Mirage, California. He also serves as Clinical Professor of Family Medicine at the University of California, San Diego School of Medicine, and at the Keck School of Medicine at the University of Southern California.

Dr. Scherger has served in many leadership roles within family medicine. These include serving as the first resident representative on the STFM Board of Directors (1977-1978); STFM President (1986); STFM Foundation President (1991-1992); President of the California Academy of Family Physicians (1995); member of the AAFP Board of Directors (1995-1998); member of the Board of Directors of the American Board of Family Practice (1999-2004); and Vice President of the ABFP (2003-2004). Scherger has also received numerous awards and recognition, including being named Family Physician of the Year (1989), being elected to the Institute of Medicine (IOM) in 1992, and receiving the Thomas W. Johnson Award for Family Practice Education in 1994. Dr. Scherger was the first Medical Editor of Family Practice Management and has written for, edited or served on the editorial boards of numerous publications, including Medical Economics, Family Medicine, Men's Health, and Hippocrates. He has authored more than 400 medical publications and given over 900 invited presentations.

Dr. Scherger's manuscript collection consists of a selection of his writings, titled 40 Years in Family Medicine: Collected Writings of Joseph E. Scherger, MD, MPH. This collection also includes audiocassettes and transcripts of his oral history interviews for STFM's "Voices from Family Medicine" Project in 1992, and another interview conducted by Dr. Cecilia Gutierrez in 2007. Also included in this collection is one leather-bound volume consisting of a scrapbook which was given to Dr. Scherger by STFM in commemoration of his service as STFM President in 1986-1987.

Schmitt, M. Eileen, MD (1943-)

Maynard I. Shapiro, MD, of Chicago, Illinois, was born in 1914 in Chicago. He earned both his BS (1937) and his MD (1940) from the University of Illinois. He completed an internship and residency at Mt. Sinai Hospital in Chicago, finishing in 1941. He was named chief resident at Mt. Sinai. In 1941, he entered the US Army Medical Corps as a first lieutenant, serving as a hospital executive officer and port surgeon in the South Pacific from 1941-1946. He was discharged a lieutenant colonel and entered private practice in Chicago. Dr. Shapiro was involved in the founding of the American College of Physicians and Surgeons, which merged with the AAGP in 1948. Dr. Shapiro's hospital practice began at Mt. Sinai in Chicago, where he was clinical assistant in surgery. He later moved to the active staff of Jackson Park Hospital in Chicago and served as director of the department of physical medicine and rehabilitation and practiced under the department of general practice. He served the Illinois Chapter in a number of roles, including as delegate to the AAGP Congress for ten years and as vice president, speaker, chairman of the board, and president (1961-1962). He was elected to the AAGP Board of Directors in 1963 and served as vice president and president of the AAGP (1968-1969). He died in 1999 in Chicago.

Dr. Shapiro's collection consists of four boxes of scripts from the Marcus Welby, MD television show which aired on ABC from 1969-1976. Dr. Shapiro was AAGP president when the show started, and was sent copies of each script. He received scripts through 1976 but this collection was weeded in order to eliminate duplicates with Dr. Thomas L. Stern's collection of Welby scripts.

Skinner, John O., MD (1845-1932)

3 boxes

A native of Baltimore, Maryland, John Oscar Skinner, MD was born in 1845 and was from an old Maryland family. After graduating with MD degrees from both the University of Maryland (1866) and the University of Pennsylvania (1867), he took special courses at the Sorbonne in Paris, at the University of Wurzburg in Germany, and at the University of Vienna. After returning to the US, in 1871 he joined the United States Army as a civilian, or contract surgeon (the term “surgeon” being used in the military to describe all physicians then in service, regardless of specialty). After various postings at forts all across the Western United States, Dr. Skinner was detailed to serve as a surgeon in the Modoc War of 1873-1874. On January 17, 1873, while serving in this capacity at Lava Beds, Oregon, Dr. Skinner performed an act of bravery which would eventually lead to his being recommended for the Medal of Honor when he “Rescued a wounded soldier who lay under a close and heavy fire during the assault on the Modoc stronghold after 2 soldiers had unsuccessfully attempted to make the rescue and both had been wounded in doing so.” However, the Army initially held that he was not eligible for the award since at the time of his act of bravery, Dr. Skinner was a civilian. The issue was not resolved until 1915, when Congress finally passed a special act which authorized awarding of the Medal of Honor to Dr. Skinner. On April 6, 1915—forty-two years after his heroic deed—Dr. Skinner received the award from President Woodrow Wilson in a ceremony at the White House. Following his service in the Modoc War, in 1874 Dr. Skinner received a commission as an assistant surgeon in the Army, where he spent the next 19 years, retiring in 1893 as a Surgeon with the rank of major. While in service, Dr. Skinner was posted to areas all across the United States, and took part as a physician in several notable events, particularly the Great Railway Strike of 1877 and Gen. George Crook’s famous investigation of the Apache country while commanding the Department of Arizona in 1882. In addition, Dr. Skinner was for a brief time custodian of the Native Americans of Geronimo’s group while they were imprisoned at Fort Marion, Florida in 1875. After retiring from the Army in 1893, Dr. Skinner moved to Washington, D.C., where he served as superintendent of the Columbia Hospital for Women. With the outbreak of World War I, Dr. Skinner was recalled to active service, and served as head of the U.S. Army Dispensary in Washington. In 1930, he retired from the Army for the second time with the rank of lieutenant colonel. He died in Washington, DC at the age of 87 and is buried in Arlington National Cemetery alongside his wife Kathleen Bayly Skinner, who was herself the daughter of another prominent nineteenth century physician, Dr. Alexander Hamilton Bayly.

The John O. Skinner, MD Collection consists of a photocopy of Dr. Skinner’s complete military service records from the National Archives in Washington from 1866 to 1893, and includes an Appointments, Promotions and Commissions (APC) file; Application for Employment as a Contract Surgeon, U.S. Army; and Personnel Reports, Orders and Receipts. The collection also contains photocopied material giving background information on the Modoc War, Indian Wars, Dr. Skinner’s Medal of Honor, and other subjects relating to his military career, as well as genealogy and education records, correspondence, publications, and extracts relating to his memberships in various medical, military and other organizations.

11 boxes – See also: Audiovisual Collection; Library Collection; Museum (Artifact) Collection; Oversized Collection; Photograph Collection; and Plaques & Framed Items

G. Gayle Stephens, MD was born in Pike County, Missouri in 1928. In 1947, he entered the University of Missouri School of Medicine, graduating from that program with a BS in Medicine in 1950, and later attended Northwestern University in Chicago, where he received an MD degree with distinction in 1952. After serving his internship at Wesley Hospital in Wichita followed by a two-year stint in the Army Medical Corps, Dr. Stephens was a practicing family physician in private practice in Wichita from 1955 to 1967. In 1967, he founded the Family Practice Residency Program based at Wesley Hospital in Wichita, where he served as founding Director of the program until 1972. This program became one of the first 15 family practice residency programs in the nation to be approved by the Residency Review Committee in December 1968 under the new “Essentials for Approved Residencies in Family Practice.”

In 1972, Dr. Stephens became the first professor of Family Practice at the University of Kansas School of Medicine’s Wichita Branch. The following year, he was named the founding Dean of the School of Primary Medical Care at the University of Alabama in Huntsville, Alabama, and from 1973 to 1975, he served as the 3rd President of the Society of Teachers of Family Medicine (STFM). In 1977, he accepted the position of Professor and Chair of the Department of Family Practice at the University of Alabama in Birmingham, where he served until his retirement in 1988. Presently, he holds the appointment of Professor Emeritus of Family Medicine at the University of Alabama in Birmingham. A prolific writer and recognized scholar in the specialty, Dr. Stephens' 1982 book The Intellectual Basis of Family Practice has been hailed by many as one of the most influential works on family medicine ever written.

Throughout his career, Dr. Stephens has served on numerous state and national committees dealing with family medicine education, and has received a variety of prestigious awards for his work, including the American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP) Thomas W. Johnson Award for Outstanding Contributions to Family Practice in 1975; the Society of Teachers of Family Medicine (STFM) Patient Care Gavel for outstanding contributions in the field of family medicine, as well as for distinguished service to STFM in 1976; the STFM Certificate of Excellence in 1980; the Max Cheplove Award from the Erie County Chapter of the New York Academy of Family Physicians in 1984; and the AAFP John G. Walsh Award for dedicated and effective leadership in furthering the development of family medicine in 1996. In 2006, Dr. Stephens was elected to the National Academy of Sciences Institute of Medicine, and several awards have also been named in his honor at the University of Alabama: The G. Gayle Stephens Award in Family Medicine at UA, Birmingham, and The G. Gayle Stephens Award for Academic Excellence in Family Medicine at UA, Huntsville. Dr. Stephens died at his home in Birmingham, Alabama on February 20, 2014.

The G. Gayle Stephens, MD Collection consists of material relating to Dr. Stephens' career and service in family medicine, and includes correspondence and professional papers, published and unpublished works, speeches, awards and other materials. His collection also includes files related to his work establishing residency programs in Wichita and Huntsville, his service at the University of Alabama at Birmingham, and his involvement in Keystone Conferences I, II and III.

Stern, Thomas L., MD (1920-2011)

Thomas L. Stern, MD, of Sun Lakes, Arizona, was born in 1920 in San Francisco, California. He attended San Francisco public schools for his primary and secondary education before joining the US Navy in 1941. He served for four years in the medical corps and V-12 training units. Two years after his departure from the Navy, Stern completed his undergraduate work at Willamette University in Salem, Oregon. Three years later, in 1950, he graduated from the University of Oregon Medical School in Portland and proceeded to complete both a rotating internship (1951) and a Resident/General Surgery internship (1952) at St. Vincent's Hospital. Dr. Stern's first practice was a partnership in Sherwood, Oregon, which he maintained from 1952 to 1960. Following a move to Manhattan Beach, California, Stern ran a solo practice from 1960 to 1974, during which time he was on the medical staffs at Harbor General, Santa Monica Hospital and Medical Center and the South Bay District Hospital where he was the Vice Chief of Staff in 1965. From 1970 to 1974, Stern was the Director of the Family Practice Residency Training Program at Santa Monica Hospital Medical Center. It was during this time that he was tapped to serve as technical advisor to the Marcus Welby, MD television show on ABC. He served in that capacity until 1974, when he moved to Kansas City to become Director of the AAFP Division of Education. He served the AAFP in several other capacities, including project director and founder of the Residency Assistance Program (RAP), Vice President of Education and Scientific Affairs, Deputy Executive Vice President, and founder of the AAFP Home Study Self-Assessment Program (HSSA). When he retired from the AAFP in 1983, he moved to the Family Health Foundation of America (now the AAFP Foundation) to become its first Vice President of Professional and Corporate Affairs. He retired from that position in 1991. Among his many positions, he served as president of the California Academy of Family Physicians (1972), president of the International Center for Family Medicine (ICFM), and Consultant to the Surgeon Generals of the Army and Navy (1974-1979). His awards include the STFM Certificate of Excellence (1979), the AAFP Award of Merit (1982), the AAFP Thomas W. Johnson Award for Excellence in Education (1985), and the AAFP John G. Walsh Award for Leadership in Family Practice Education (1991). Following his retirement from the AAFP Foundation in 1991, the Thomas L. Stern, MD Lectureship was established in his honor, to be given at the annual RAP (now Residency Program Solutions). In 2001, Stern published his autobiography, House Calls: Recollections of a Family Physician. He died on May 28, 2011 at the age of 90.

The Thomas L. Stern, MD Collection includes files from the numerous family medicine organizations, programs, and positions that Dr. Stern served, including within the AAFP, FHFA/AAFP Foundation, Residency Assistance Program (RAP), Family Practice Working Party, international family medicine efforts, and the Thomas L. Stern Lectureship. His collection also contains articles, papers, and speeches given by Dr. Stern; articles about Stern; correspondence; inscribed books; and materials removed from a scrapbook that Dr. Stern compiled. A significant part of his collection consists of seventeen boxes of scripts from the Marcus Welby, MD television show, dated 1969-1976. He was interviewed in 2003 by Daniel Ostergaard, MD, and the videotaped oral history and transcript is part of the collection.

Taylor, Robert B., MD (1936-)

3 boxes – See also: Library Collection; Photograph Collection; and Plaques & Framed Items

Originally a native of Pennsylvania, Dr. Taylor attended Bucknell University and Temple University School of Medicine, earning his MD in 1961. He interned at the US Public Health Service Hospital in Norfolk, Virginia, and then served an additional two years with the U.S.P.H.S. From 1964 to 1978 Dr. Taylor was in private family practice in New Paltz, New York. Following this, he joined the faculty of the Department of Family and Community Medicine at Wake Forest University School of Medicine in North Carolina. Six years later, in 1984, he became the second chair of Oregon Health & Science University's Department of Family Medicine, and served in this capacity until 1998, when he was named Professor Emeritus, a position he holds currently. During his tenure as chair, the department increased from fifteen to forty primary faculty, established three clinical practice centers in Portland, and began a residency program in southern Oregon. Taylor joined the AAFP in 1965 and is a charter diplomate of the ABFM and a charter fellow of the AAFP. Among his many awards include two from the AAFP: the Thomas W. Johnson Award for Outstanding Contributions to Family Practice Education in 1998 and the John G. Walsh Award for Lifetime Contributions to Family Medicine in 2003, as well as the F. Marian Bishop Leadership Award from the STFM Foundation in 2007. Taylor has written widely on the specialty, and is the author of many articles and books on family medicine, including Family Medicine: Principles and Practice, Fundamentals of Family Medicine, and The Manual of Family Practice. His books have been translated into numerous languages and are considered seminal works in the specialty. He and his wife Anita currently reside in Portland, Oregon.

Dr. Taylor's collection consists of his curriculum vitae, c.1977; correspondence from 1977 to 1980 relating to the 1st edition of his book Family Medicine: Principles and Practice and his move from private practice to academics; a copy of his handwritten manuscript with notes for the 2nd edition of Family Medicine: Principles and Practice; the typed manuscript of his 1972 book The Practical Art of Medicine; and a collection of 69 historic "inaugural issue"/vol. 1, no. 1 family medicine-related journals from 1947 to 1999.

Thornburgh, Albert H., MD (1870-1950)

1 slim document case – See also: Museum (Artifact) Collection and Photograph Collection

Albert Henry Thornburgh, MD was born in the town of Walnut Ridge, Lawrence County, Arkansas, in 1870. In 1885, he moved with his family to Howell County in south central Missouri, where they settled in the town of West Plains. After graduating with an MD from Missouri Medical College in St. Louis in 1895, he returned to West Plains, where he established a general practice and practiced medicine for more than 55 years. An active member of the local community, Dr. Thornburgh served at one time as president of the West Plains Building and Loan Association and as president of the West Plains Chamber of Commerce. In 1899, he joined the Missouri National Guard, and during World War I commanded a Sanitary Detachment at Camp Doniphan, Missouri.

The Albert H. Thornburgh, MD Collection consists of photocopied census returns and genealogy records on Dr. Thornburgh and his family from 1870 to 1930; records relating to his medical education and membership in the AMA, along with medical directory entries; Dr. Thornburgh's state and federal military service records; his entry in the 1925 edition of Who's Who In American Medicine; newspaper and other articles on Dr. Thornburgh, his family, and West Plains from local West Plains publications (including an article on the doctor written by his son, Max Thornburgh, D.D.S.); and a copy of Dr. Thornburgh's 1950 death certificate. In addition, the Center also holds in its Museum (Artifact) Collection a rare World War I artillery shell owned by Dr. Thornburgh, which is carved with a caduceus, symbol of American military medicine; Dr. Thornburgh's stethoscope, and vials of various medications used by Dr. Thornburgh in his practice.

Tsou, Carole V., MD (1958-)

1985, 1988-1989

1 slim document case – See also: Photograph Collection

Born in 1958, Carole V. Tsou, MD graduated from the University of Michigan School of Medicine in Ann Arbor, Michigan in 1981. In 1984, she completed her family practice residency in Michigan, and that same year, became the assistant director of the AAFP's Division of Education, in which capacity she served until 1990.

Dr. Tsou's collection consists of material relating to her membership in the AMA in 1985; and her correspondence files as assistant director of the AAFP Education Division from April 1988 through February 1989.

Tudor, John M., Jr., MD (1938-)

1960-2000

44 boxes – See also: Audiovisual Collection; Museum (Artifact) Collection; Photograph Collection; and Slide Collection

John M. Tudor, Jr., MD, of East Falmouth, Massachusetts, was born in 1938 in Pine Bluff, Arkansas. He earned his MD from Harvard Medical School in 1964, and then he completed a rotating internship at King County Hospital in Seattle, Washington. His residency training included an internal medicine residency at the University of Washington Hospitals in Seattle (1965-66), and a family practice residency at the University of Miami-Jackson Memorial Hospital under Lynn Carmichael (1968-69). In between his residencies, he served as a captain in the Air Force at the dispensary at Kirtland AFB, Albuquerque, New Mexico. Dr. Tudor entered academia immediately upon completion of his residency in Miami. He became assistant professor at the Department of Family and Community Medicine at the University of Arkansas. He also served as associate professor and acting chairman during his tenure there, 1969-1977. During a leave of absence from his position in Arkansas, he was a fellow at Michigan State University, earning an MA in Higher Education & Administration. In 1977, he became associate professor at the Department of Family and Community Medicine at the University of Utah. He also served as Chairman of the Division of Family Medicine and Director of the family practice residency there. In 1980, he entered private practice while remaining clinical associate professor with the department. In 1981-1982, he served as president of the Utah Academy of Family Physicians. From 1988-1991, he served on the AAFP Board of Directors, including as chairman from 1990-1991. He was AAFP President, 1992-1993. In 2004, he moved to East Falmouth, Massachusetts, where he remains in private practice.

The John M. Tudor, Jr., MD Collection encompasses 44 boxes, and includes a wide variety of materials. Included are files from his education and training, his academic careers at the Universities of Arkansas and Utah, and his private practice files. Another large group of documents pertains to his service on the AAFP Board of Directors, his presidential campaign, and his time as president-elect, president, and past president of the Academy, including media clippings and interviews. A special subset of materials from his Academy service includes files related to health care reform, since Dr. Tudor was AAFP President during a significant period when the AAFP was plugging its “Rx for Health” access plan. Also related to his Academy service are three boxes on the AMA/Specialty Society Relative Value Update Committee. There are also files from his first decade as a member of STFM, and committee member in that organization, as well as files related to his membership in the Utah Academy of Family Physicians. Materials of a more general nature include: miscellaneous correspondence, expert witness case files, publications/published articles, speeches, research notes/papers in preparation, and daily planners.

West, Raymond O., MD (1922-)

1 slim document case

Raymond Owen West, MD was born in 1922 and graduated from the Loma Linda University School of Medicine in Loma Linda, California in 1951. He taught for many years as professor of Family Medicine and Epidemiology at Loma Linda University, and is now retired from that position. Presently he is a free-lance writer and medical columnist.

The Raymond O. West, MD Collection contains copies of Family Practice Today, a publication which was edited by Dr. West while a professor at Loma Linda University. The collection includes issues Vol. II, No. 11 (November 1979) through Vol. IV, No. 6 (June 1981), inclusive.

Witten, Carroll L., MD (1923-1993)

1 box

Born on June 23, 1923 in El Paso, Illinois, Carroll Lewis Witten was the son of a Presbyterian minister. The family later moved to Kentucky, where he grew up in Louisville. During World War II, Witten served in the US Army Air Force, where he served as a navigator with the 305th Heavy Bombardment Group. On May 11, 1944, during his 27th combat mission over occupied Europe, the plane Witten was flying aboard was shot down, and he was subsequently captured and held as a German POW for the remainder of the war.

After returning from the war, Dr. Witten enrolled at the University of Louisville, where he earned a bachelor's degree in 1947 and his MD in 1951. Following his graduation from medical school, Dr. Witten established a private solo practice in Louisville.

As a family physician, Dr. Witten was heavily involved in leadership activities on behalf of Family Medicine at both the state and national levels. In Kentucky, he served as the founder and first editor of the Journal of the Kentucky Academy of General Practice (now the KAFP Journal) from 1954 to 1959, was honored as the state's "Family Doctor of the Year" in 1959, and was President of the Kentucky AGP from 1965 to 1966. On the national level, Dr. Witten was elected vice speaker of the AAGP House of Delegates in 1959, and was elected speaker the following year. On April 12, 1965, at the age of 41, he became the youngest president-elect in the history of the Academy, and in 1966-1967, served as the 19th president of the AAGP. As both president-elect and president of the Academy and also as chairman of the AAGP's Committee on Requirements for Certification (CORC), Dr. Witten played a crucial role in gaining approval of specialty certification for family physicians, which eventually resulted in the establishment of Family Practice as the 20th specialty in American medicine. Dr. Witten served as the Academy's representative to the American Medical Association (AMA) House of Delegates for 16 years. There, he chaired the AMA Council on Constitution and Bylaws and served as a member of the committee that rewrote the AMA's Principles of Medical Ethics.

In addition to his service to the specialty, Dr. Witten also served his community, first as president of the Louisville Board of Aldermen from 1969 to 1973, and later as a member of the Board of Trustees for the University of Louisville from 1976 to 1980. Dr. Witten died in Louisville, Kentucky on January 5, 1993. He was 69 years old.

The Carroll L. Witten, MD Collection consists of photocopied extracts of newspaper and magazine articles, correspondence, and AAGP Board of Directors minutes primarily covering his career from the period 1959 to 1979. Census extracts, family, military service, education and genealogical records, as well as obituaries on Dr. Witten are also included.

Wolff, George T., MD (1925-2016)

1955, 1974-1993, 2001

1 box – See also: Photograph Collection and Slide Collection

George T. Wolff, MD was born in 1925 in Greensboro, North Carolina. He earned his MD from Jefferson Medical College in 1952, and completed a rotating internship at North Carolina Memorial Hospital in Chapel Hill. Following that, he completed two residencies in general practice – the first at City Memorial Hospital in Winston-Salem, the second at Moses H. Cone Memorial Hospital in Greensboro. After his residencies, he entered private practice in Greensboro from 1955-1975. He became the director of the Family Practice Residency Program at the Moses H. Cone Memorial Hospital in 1975, and since that time, has alternated private practice with academic duties at Moses H. Cone as well as Duke University and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Dr. Wolff served on the board of the North Carolina Academy of Family Physicians (NCAFP), and was vice president and president of the NCAFP from 1966-1967. He also edited the Tar Heel Practitioner and edited and compiled two anniversary publications for the North Carolina chapter. On the national level, his service in the AAFP included tenures as a delegate from North Carolina, a member of the Board of Directors from 1974-1977, and as AAFP vice President (1977-1978) and treasurer (1979-1983). Dr. Wolff has received many awards, including the AAFP Award of Merit (1984) and North Carolina Family Physician of the Year Award (1985). A George T. Wolff Award was established by the UNC Department of Family Medicine in 1985, and a George T. Wolff, MD Primary Care Symposium was held annually from 1995-2003. Dr. Wolff died on October 29, 2016.

Dr. Wolff's collection includes materials related to his AAFP service, such as his 1983 Oral Report of the Treasurer to the AAFP Congress of Delegates, AAFP stationery dated 1974-1982 (including "joke" letterhead using board members' and officers' middle names), and Histories of the AAFP Board of Directors. There are some miscellaneous articles and correspondence about Dr. Wolff and AAFP activities. A copy of the 1978 report of the National Commission on Families and Public Policies is also included in his collection. Some materials have been separated from the core collection, such as Board of Directors and Delegates Dinner menus, NCAFP histories, and a collection of over 600 slides. Also separated are numerous photographs that depict AAFP leaders, meetings, and activities.

Young, Robert (aka Marcus Welby, MD) (1907-1998)

Robert George Young was an American actor, best known for his roles as Jim Anderson, the father of Father Knows Best (NBC and then CBS) and as physician Marcus Welby in Marcus Welby, MD. (ABC). Born in Chicago in 1907, Young graduated from Abraham Lincoln High School in Los Angeles in 1925, and made his professional acting debut in Hollywood in the 1931 MGM film Black Camel. He subsequently appeared in 100 movies in a film career that spanned from 1931 to 1952. He is best known however, for his role in the television series Father Knows Best (1949-1954 on radio, 1954-1960 on television), for which he and his co-star, Jane Wyatt, won several Emmy Awards. Young later became equally famous for portraying the fatherly general practitioner Marcus Welby, MD in the television series of the same name, which ran from 1969 to 1976. This series, (for which Young won an Emmy for best leading actor in a drama series in 1970 and a Golden Globe Award in 1972) was produced in cooperation with the AAFP. After the Marcus Welby, MD television series ended its run in 1976 after a total of 169 episodes, Young reprised the role in two made for TV movies, The Return of Marcus Welby, MD (1984) and Marcus Welby, MD: A Holiday Affair (1988). Young died at his home in Westlake Village, California in 1998 at the age of 91.

The Robert Young Collection contains two press kits on the "Marcus Welby, MD" television series which include news releases, photographs, facts sheets and other materials on the series.

Young, Robert S., MD (1923-1998)

1 slim document case – See also: Photograph Collection

Robert S. Young, MD was born in 1923 in Loudonville, Ohio. From 1948 to 1987 he was a family physician in Johnstown, Ohio. He served as AAFP treasurer from 1983 to 1987 and was a member of the AAFP Board of Directors from 1978 to 1981. From 1970 to 1971, he served as president of the Ohio Academy of Family Physicians. As a leader within the Ohio AFP for many years, Dr. Young's accomplishments include helping to obtain state line-item funding for family practice departments and residencies. He was the key force in convincing the 1973-74 Ohio General Assembly to pass a bill which not only funded training for undergraduates and graduates, but also specified that "The [family practice] department shall be a full department coequal with all other departments."

Dr. Young's collection contains reports, correspondence and articles relating to Dr. Young's service as AAFP treasurer during the period 1983 to 1987.

Zervanos, Nikitas J., MD (1936-)

1 slim document case - See also: Audiovisual Collection and Museum (Artifact) Collection

A native of Reading, Pennsylvania, Dr. Nikitas J. Zervanos graduated from the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine in 1962. After completing an internship at Lancaster General Hospital in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, he served for three years (1963-1966) in the United States Army Reserves as a Group Surgeon in Greece, and as a Medical Liaison between the U.S. and Greek military. Following his release from military service, Dr. Zervanos served residencies in Internal Medicine in Philadelphia and then from 1968 to 1969 was a Medicine Fellow in the Family Health Care Program of the Harvard Medical School. In 1969, Dr. Zervanos returned to Lancaster, where he has served as Director of the Family and Community Medicine Program at Lancaster General Hospital and as a Professor of Family and Community Medicine at Pennsylvania State University in Hershey, Pennsylvania. In 1996, he received the AAFP's Thomas W. Johnson Award for Outstanding Contributions to Family Practice Education, and in 2009 he was also honored as the 2009 recipient of the Pennsylvania Medical Society's Distinguished Service Award. Dr. Zervanos has also been honored for his outstanding contributions to the specialty through the establishment of the Nikitas J. Zervanos Outstanding Program Director Award, an award sponsored jointly by the AAFP and AFMRD to recognize "a Family Medicine Director who has demonstrated leadership and advancement of the specialty, service as a mentor to residents/medical students, and service to the community as well as to the organizations of the family of Family Medicine."

The Nikitas J. Zervanos, MD Collection consists of one published guidebook on the Greek island of Kos (homeland of Hippocrates, traditionally recognized as the "Father of Medicine"), and a certificate from the mayor of Kos to the AAFP congratulating the Academy on its 40th anniversary in 1987. The Center also has three completed digital copies of the manuscripts written by Dr. Zervanos titled, “Book I: The History of General Practice and Family Medicine: How the Generalist Became a Specialist,” “Book II: The History of General Medical Practice and Lancaster General Hospital, Lancaster, Pennsylvania: The Founding of Lancaster's Family Medicine Residency Program,” and “Book III: Family Medicine: How the Generalist Became a Specialist: The History of Pennsylvania's Lancaster General's Family Medicine Residency Program.” The Center also holds several medical instruments used by Dr. Zervanos in his medical practice as part of its Museum (Artifact) Collections.

Adam G.N. Moore, MD Collection:

In December 2012, the Center acquired a significant donation in the form of more than 600 titles from the personal library of Adam G. N. Moore, MD which now constitutes the Adam G.N. Moore, MD Collection in the History of Family Medicine at CHFM.

The Moore Collection consists of titles which relate to the history of family medicine, from pre-revolutionary America up to the present day. The materials have been collected to demonstrate, in an historical context, how people's health has been maintained, and also how their medical problems have been recognized, interpreted and treated throughout American history.

In addition to the main theme of Family Medicine, the Moore Collection includes several "sub collections" dealing with issues such as diet and nutrition, drug use, sex education, and women's health.

(NOTE: Due to space limitations; this collection is stored off-site; box numbers after each title refer to the box location where the title is stored.)

TRAVELING EXHIBITS:

The following exhibits are currently available as small, portable displays that can be loaned to family medicine organizations, schools, civic organizations or other archives, libraries and museums on a temporary basis.

Exhibits may be loaned for a period of three months with one three-month renewal, for a maximum of up to six months. The cost for Family Medicine organizations and other donors to the Center is the cost of return shipping only; for other researchers and organizations, the cost is $150.00 per three-month loan period, plus the cost of return shipping.

For more information about exhibit availability and ordering, please contact the Center.

The following traveling exhibits are available for loan:

AAFP Awards & Honors- Features a sampling of some of the many awards the Academy has won over the years in areas ranging from education and publishing to meetings and convention management. (1 box)

The AAFP: A History of the American Academy of Family Physicians- This display has been developed from “The AAFP & AAFP Foundation: A Tribute to Excellence,” a special exhibit to celebrate the 60th anniversary of the Academy, and which was featured at the 59th annual Scientific Assembly in Chicago in 2007. (5 boxes)

The AAFP & Health Care Reform: Then & Now- Family physicians and family medicine organizations have both played a critical part in the continuing debate to reform health care in America. This exhibit takes a brief look at the history of health care reform in the United States and the AAFP's role in reform efforts. (1 box)

The AAFP Foundation: A History - A special exhibit to celebrate the first 50 years in the history of the Foundation (1958-2008), this display is one of a series of historical exhibitions in the "Family of Family Medicine" Series. (2 boxes)

ADFM: A History of the Association of Departments of Family Medicine - Another in a series of historical exhibitions in the "Family of Family Medicine" Series. (1 box)

AFMRD: A History of the Association of Family Medicine Residency Directors- The fourth in the series of historical exhibitions in the "Family of Family Medicine" Series. (1 box)

All in the Family: A History of the Constituent Chapters of the AAFP- This exhibit takes a look at the history and development of the Academy's 55 Constituent Chapters, and features unique photographs, artifacts, etc. from selected chapters. (1 box)

The Center for the History of Family Medicine: Preserving Family Medicine's Past for the Sake of Our Future- This exhibit focuses on the Center itself, its history and purpose, and the multi-dimensional role it plays as an historical archives, library and museum. (2 boxes)

Christmas At the Academy- Drawing from the Academy's old files, this exhibit takes a look at the history of Christmas at the AAFP, its past importance in Academy culture, and its evolution into a "Holiday" celebration. (1 box)

The Distinguished Dozen: Twelve Books that Shaped the Face of Family Medicine- Features 12 of the most influential works in Family Medicine history, together with a discussion of their impact and authors. (1 box)

From the Doctor's Bag: The Tools of the Family Physician, Past & Present- Presents a collection of various medical instruments together with a discussion of their uses. (2 boxes)

A Gallery of Family Medicine Symbols, Past & Present- Taken from the collection of framed items donated by STFM from the office of former STFM Executive Director Roger Sherwood, this exhibit presents and discusses some of the many symbols which have been used by Family Medicine organizations throughout the years. (1 box including 23 small framed items)

The GP's Library: A Glimpse Into Early 20th Century Medicine - This exhibit showcases and presents materials that were found in a typical GP's library during the early 20th Century. Two different versions of the exhibit have been prepared: one based on the collections of Dr. John O.

Baeke, a practicing GP in Overland Park, Kansas during the 1950s through 1980s (2 boxes), and materials from the library of GP Waddy P. Tate, MD of St. Louis. (4 boxes) (6 boxes total)

Kids & Family Medicine - Utilizing files from both family medicine organizations and family physicians, this exhibit takes a look at children's perceptions of family physicians and family medicine, and also focuses on family medicine's involvement over the years in reaching out to younger generations. (1 box)

Past Headquarters Buildings of the AAFP- A small gallery exhibit featuring materials drawn from the Center's collections on the history of the past headquarters of the Academy. (7 framed items)

Physicians With Heart: A Tribute- This exhibit, detailing the history of the Physicians with Heart airlift, was originally produced in 2006 and has been updated to honor the 20th anniversary airlift in 2011. (2 boxes)

Reproduction Medical Costume Collection - The following reproduction medical costumes are available for loan: (1) Civil War Confederate medical officer's uniform - historically accurate reproduction of a Confederate surgeon's uniform, complete with jacket, pants, kepi (hat) and sash; (2) Civil War Union medical officer's uniform - historically accurate reproduction of a Union surgeon's uniform, including jacket, pants, kepi (hat) and sash; (3) Green surgical scrubs - includes shirt and pants; and (4) Physician's white lab coat.

Six Men of Medicine- Features a set of 10 framed medical illustrations of a 1966 poem about General Practice entitled "Six Men of Medicine" by A. Sherwood Baker, MD adapted from "The Blind Man and the Elephant." (1 box including 10 medium framed items)

APPENDIX 2: CHFM RESEARCH POLICIES

To ensure proper care and use of the Center's resources, the following policies have been established for their use:

1. The CHFM is a closed stack facility. This means that the collections are housed in a secure area that is not accessible to researchers. The Center's staff will bring requested items to researchers for use in the Center's Library or another approved location.
2. Printed materials may be photocopied if it poses no harm to the material. However, Center staff will not reproduce some items due to their fragile or unique nature.
3. Center staff will do all reproduction of the collections in CHFM offices or in another approved location. Copies may then be removed for use by the researcher.
4. Some materials may have access restrictions based upon legal or confidentiality issues, or at the donor's request. Therefore, Center staff reserve the right to refuse researchers access to these materials.
5. The user assumes full responsibility and liability for copyright compliance of all materials used from the Center. CHFM also reserves the right to refuse to copy or permit the copying or reproduction of materials which it feels may be in violation of copyright laws.
6. Fees may be charged for services such as lengthy reference searches, photocopying, faxing, photograph duplication, rush orders, and publication. CHFM staff will provide a copy of the Center's fee schedule upon request (see Appendix B, Price List for Reproduction and Services).
7. The researcher must request permission to publish any materials belonging to the Center in writing prior to publication.
8. The researcher must agree to have the following statement accompany each published image from the Center's collections: "Courtesy of the Center for the History of Family Medicine, American Academy of Family Physicians Foundation."
9. Upon completion, the researcher must send one copy of any publication using materials from the Center's collections to the CHFM. This will become a part of the official archives of the Center for the History of Family Medicine.
10. Smoking, eating and drinking in the Center is not permitted.
11. The Center is not available for use as either short- or long-term rental or storage.

NOTICE: Warning Concerning Copyright Restrictions

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or reproductions of copyrighted material. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or other reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.
